PHILADELPHIA, DECEMBER 20, 1823.

WHOLE No. 1 3.

by ATKINSON & ALEXANDER, No. 53 Market street, north side, four doors below Second street, at $2 per annum, payable half yearly in advance, or $3 at the end of the year.

or twas not kind moment, where the wreath of friendship hath been wove: shere is still 'mid storms and death, evergreen shall prove.

and the Use o

AHAM CALLAR

t Reduced Pri

e S. W. corner of june 7-6n

& Oyster-House

respectfully infor

ns generally, that wern Establishme

at all times bed

piced, or in the sh

hopes a continue oct. 11-achinery.

vate Rooms for fondly gathered long ago; ch shall bloom forever fair, mough only f d by tears of wo.

Thou not why but let them faiter; Te looks within can feel no change, While glowing o'er affection's altar. go not, think not, that the ties Of hangier hours can e'er be broken;

Then knowed that time, tho' swift he flies, Both left at many a lasting token. Le net sock shoughts distract our peace; litter, add not thus to wo,

POR THE SATURDAY EVENING POST HIES ON THE DEATH OF AN AUNT. het maquil spirit-flown, forever flown. misk specession from our eyes depart: with now, we gaze upon thy bier, ent th' feelings of the sorrowing heart. how can we thy precious loss sustain; hought is much too painful, too severe; mon most the cold, clodded earth contain he firm we lov'd-whom all had lov'd so dear. Edden in every feeling, kindred breat, to hink, the tomb should e'er those hearts divide withou so oft in strong affection prest. The sixted image doth appear to move word that fond circle, thy example taught to deel in friendship, virtue, and in love. Winny, and oft, shall be the tears that flow how remembrance of thy placed rest; Inleging will, must be each silent woe The ale is refuge in a heart distrest. he log in peace thy gentle head must sleep send the timeworn mouldering urn, JOHN GALLWAY. Ye will shy should we at thy bliss repine, Or at them death's decree our hearts complain, Soon must our besoms he entombed as thine.

> -STANZAS.

And hearts divided part to meet again.

And harren to that vast eternal home,

To there we fundly hope to meet again

In one sweet circle evermore to move,

Bu live rejuling in eternal love.

Yes soon that avfal, solemn hour must come,

When somering death shall bid our spirits rise,

There portal realms beyond expanding skies.

Were sorrow can no more our bosoms pain, bort then the fiend of the darksome hour, That wanders alone on mortelity's smore-But reals o'er the graves where brave men repose, And wilfully tramples the church-yard rose?

flow's theu the flend of the night's cold noon, The gazes with hate on the beauteous moon-That soils and mars, with the finger of shame, Teanless record of the poor man's fame ?

Dow's thou the fiend of the scornful eye, That whales the pure breath of love's warm sigh, And retirm it back, all pois nous and foul, Townskied to wither the fond one's soul?

Root's thou the flend? dost thou see him advance? Whatespreet thre from his baleful glance; for should a thou be seen by that eye of flame, faced to thy bonor, thy glory, thy fame!

REFLECTIONS

ag an all Burial Graund on the banks of the river Thames, in Connecticut. plack'd the Rose of pallid hue-Unan a lovely spot it grew, Where stopp'd a stranger, pleas'd to view long have the relies moulder'd there, the many moss-grown stones declare. That long have left the changing air, Which none can save.

The silent grave.

hered spot enclos'd around, win careful hands the burying ground, bere once the bell with solemn sound, Toll'd for the bier.

here now ascends the circling vine, h sweetly round the tombs entwine, Aif to save from wasting time, Remains so dear.

Not for from hore the rapid tide 7 Thames is seen to glide, And bursting from the mountain side,

With awful foam ! The nighty rocks of ponderous size, dirend as if to reach the skies, with the stranger's eyes, Which love to roam. the selling sun had left the skies, is with me to sympathise, ves heard but zephyr's sighs, At silent eve :

whose congenial to my mind. Well pleased to view the world behind, diffate on joys refin'd,

And shadows leave. Prass grown graves of verdure bright, set only such such charte delight,

As none can tellaching head no more distress'd. on my Saviour's breast,

I could the solemn requiem sing, And touch with joy the trembling string, Which should eternal transports brug, To me on high.

My minstre! now shall breathe the air, And my departing hour declare, And tell what heav'nly raptures there,

THE MORALIST.

EARLY RECOLLECTIONS.

It is delightful to fling a glance back to our early years, and recall our boyish actions, glittering with the light of hope and the sanguine expectations of incipient being. But the remembrance of our sensations when we were full of elasticity, when life was new and every sense and relish keen, when the eye saw nothing but a world of beauty and glory around, every object glittering in golden resplendency-is the most agreeable thing of all .-The recollection of boyish actions gives small gratification to persons of mature years, except for what may, perchance, be associated with them .-But youthful sensations experienced when the age of enjoyment was most keen, and the senses exquisitively susceptible, furnish delightful recollections, that cling around some of us in the last stage of life like the principle of being itself. How do we recollect the exquisite taste of a particular fruit or dish to have been then-how delicious a cool draught from the running stream! A landscape, a particular tree, a field, how much better defined and delightfully coloured then than they ever appeared afterwards. Objects, too, were then of greater magnitude and consequence to us. We examined every thing more narrowly and in who had kept a little fruit store in the village detail. As we advanced farther in life, we regarded them mo e in collective numbers. Single objects which afforded us pleasure, had the power of attaching the heart not possessed by a multiplicity. To the youth a little comparative space is a universe. The parental house is an edifice of magnitude, however small its superfices may be in reality; the garden is vast, and the meadow seems of unbounded extent; a mile is the measure of an immense distance, and the blue hills at the boundary of the horizon appear the limits of a world. Having had no opportunity of making a comparison with objects really extended, the present visible is his universe, and his perceptions, readily including even the minutest that he sees, impress them clearly on the memory. When the world becomes known, it is looked at in larger portions, and cannot be grasped in defail. We only see and retain masses, and consequently a less vivid but more general picture of things; and we rarely again feel that interest in insignificant objects which we felt in boyhood, unless they are connected them importance. It is not the common regret we feel in retrospection, that alone attaches us so there is the superior attachment we naturally have for individuality—we cannot love a multitude as we love one, and our affection is divided and confused on mingling in the great world. There was a single tree opposite the door of my father's house: I remember even now how every limb branched off, and that I thought no tree could be finer or larger. I loved its shade-I played under it for years ; but when I visited it after my first absence for a few months from home, though I recognized it with intense interest, it appeared lessened in size; it was an object I loved, but as a tree it no longer attracted wonder at its dimensions; during my absence I had travelled in a perienced in observing another. Can I ever forget the sunny side of the wood. where I used to linger away my holidays among the falling leaves of the trees in autumn! I can recall the very smell of the sear foliage to recollection, and the sound of the dashing water is even now in my ear. The rustling of the boughs, the sparkling of the stream, the gnarled trunks of the old oaks around, long since levelled by age, left impressions only to be obliterated by death .-The pleasure I then felt was undefinable, but I was satisfied to enjoy without caring whence my enjoyment arose. The old church-yard and its yew-trees, where I sacrilegiously enjoyed my pastime among the dead, and the ivied tower, the belfry of which I frequently ascended, and wondered at the skill which could form such ponderous masses as the beils, and lift them so high,-These were objects that, on Sundays particularly, often filled my mind, upon viewing them, with a sensation that cannot be put into language. It was not joy, but a soothing tranquil delight, that made me forget for an instant I had any desire in the world unsatisfied. I have often thought since, that this state of mind must have approached pretty closely to happiness. As we passed the churchway path to the old Gothic porch on Sundays, I used to spell the inscriptions on the tombs, and wonder at the length of a life that exceeded sixty or seventy years; for days then passed slower than weeks pass now. I visited, the other day, the school-room where I had been once the drudge of a system of learning, the end of which I could not understand, and where, as was then the fashion, every method taken seemed intended to disgust the scholar with those studies he should be taught again on my old seat; but my youthful recollec-It was not thus with the places I visited during the short space of cessation from task and toil that played-this recalled the contentedness of mind, forest of much larger trees, and the pleasure and well-defined image in my mind's eve, which I owed to the singleness of this object, I never again ex-innocent exhibitaration braced every fibre, and rushthe old man. "Tom" said I, "what is the origin said I, "it ought to be in more general ust [14] ed through every vein. The sun has never shone and what will be the end of this caper." He so brilliantly since. How fragrant were the flowers, laughed at my gravity, and replied as follows-How sleep the azore of the sky! How vivid were the hues of nature! How intense the short-lived sensations of pain and pleasure! How generous were all impulses! How confiding, open, and opright all actions! "Inhumanity to the distressed, and insolence to the fallen," those besetting sins of manhood, how utterly strangers to the heart! How little of sordid interests, and how much of intrepid honesty, was then displayed! These senations experienced in youth, and recalled in afterlife, if deemed the fruit of experience, and inimical to the perfidious courtesies of society, should at least make us concede that we have exhausted some part of our stock of virtue and principle ince-that we have been losers in some points by the lapse of time, if we have been gainers in others, more in harmony with conventional interests and views, and, we may add, with conventional vices.

FOR THE SATURDAY EVENING POST,

TOM WILSON. My friend Tom Wilson was a droil fellow. He was very fond of quizzing people. No one in the village had escaped his satire. In fact he was a privileged character. Every thing Tom said was laughed at, and few thought of being angry with him for his jokes, although they were at their expense. I called to see him one evening, "Come," said he " let us stroll about the village and quiz the inhabitants." It was the month of June, and the folks generally were seated at their doors, en oying the coolness of the evening breeze. The first one he spoke to was a female named Mary, from time immemorial. "Ah my old Lady," said Tom, "and bow have you been since I last saw vou," "Old! old!" said Mary, " pray who do you call old." "Who, why Mary Jones the apple woman, who has more wrinkles in her forehead than brains in her noddle." Tom had taken a seat by her side. I could see by her kindling eye that she was becoming angry. "You impudent feller," she said " I wont set here no longer to be abused by you." Oh, he replied, if you are setting you may set till you have hatched, 'twould be cruel to disturb you: ' Never meddle with an old hen when she's hatching, is an ancient proverb, and one that I shall carefully observe. "I say," replied Mary in a rage, " you are an impudent feller, and I wont stay here no longer." Tom scanned her from head to toe, and laughing said, " My good Mary you are but five feet high, and need not say you would stay here no longer, as 1 am well aware of that." This was another insult, or poor Mary hated to be told of her shortness. She burst into tears and said, " Tom Wilson, 1 have trusted you for cider when you were dry and had no money; I have mended your stockings without charging nothing, when, as you told me, they was holier than the parson's, and this is the way you insult me." Tom was moved, for like most of the gay and giddy, he possessed a tender with some contingent circumstance that gives heart. He slipped some silver into the old woman's hand, and told her she must jorgive him, and not mind his fun. She wiped her eyes with a corner of her apron, and with a smile, which strongly to the scenes and sensations of youth; was like a ray of the sun, darting through a watery cloud, said " Tom you are a gentleman." From the old woman we went to see the village barber:-He was a Frenchman and would have been as merry as France's gayest sons, but for one circumstance. Poor Soap was married, and married to a shrew. Standing or sitting, working or idle, she was ever scolding him; and the poor fellow looked but to her death, or to his own (he cared little which) for relief from his misery. Tom often rallied him on the fascinating qualities of his spouse. He accosted him with Ah Soap, my dear fellow, how do you do, and how is your amiable consort, is her tongue as long as ever, and are her lungs as strong as formerly?" " Hush, hush, for God's sake, Monsieur Wisson," than the brother whom he relieves. said Soap, in alarm, " she is in de nex room, and begar if she hear you, (and she has ears like de diable) she will ring such a concert, as will make you hate musique forever : begar de wirlwin is nothing to her voice, and de sharpest razor dull compared to her tongue." But the mischief was done, she overheard what had been said, burst into the room, and let fly such a torrent of abuse as made us nearly deaf. We retreated in haste, partly in mirth, and partly in sorrow at the scene we had witnessed. We called on several others and Tom had something to say to all: a joke for this, and a sly laugh at that one. Returning home, he unfolded to me a plan which he said he had for some time contemplated carrying into execution. You know," said he, " old Sordid the usurer; he came to this village when quite a young man, and was employed by a storekeeper to assist him in his business. When his employer died, (which was a few years after he went to him) he took his store, and by his cleverness in dealing, and miserly habits, acquired a sum which was far from being considered a trifle at that period. This was nearly forty years ago. Since that time his money has grown, by lending it at extravagant rates of interest, to an enormous sum. Never did pity inhabit his bosom, or sorrow for the unfortunate find an entrance to his heart. He appears as if he had no friend, nor relation on earth. I have accidentally discovered that he is the slave of superstition. To him, when the sun has withdrawn his rays, every shadow seems a ghost, and every one he meets, some evil spirit. A disagreeable dream will make him unhappy for a long period. I mean to take advantage of his credulity and frighten him into an act of virtue and benevolence. Come with me and I will show you in what manner." We proceeded to the miser's house, which was a mean low building, and seemed like the abode of poverty and distress. Tom knocked at the door; no answer was returned; he knocked a second time, all was still. The wretch shall answer me said Tom, or I will shake his house down. He knocked again and made a tremendous noise. "Who disturbs a peaceable man at this hour," said a voice within. "Those whom you cannot refuse to admit," replied Tom, " so open the door, we are your fellow-townsmen, and you need fear no danger from us, I have that to tell you that you will not hear with indifference. My name is Tom Wilson, my companion is my friend P-, whom you certainly must know. The old man to love. I saw my name cut in the desk; I looked slowly unbolted the door, and admitted us. Ter- cold ceremony is downright mockery of all that is ror was imprinted on his countenance, and a feeling of painful curiosity seemed to chain his soultions of the slavery I there endured, made me re- Tom approached him and whispered something gard what I saw with a feeling of peculiar distaste. in his ear. The miser's face assumed an ashy deceit, without its purity.

It was not thus with the places I visited during hue. He retreated to the wall, and heaved a The widow Tripit flitted by my window—a hue. He retreated to the wall, and heaved a heavy groan. Tom seemed to enjoy the scene, and after a pause said " What I have to request

"I started about two months since to see Kate, the fortune-teller, who lives at the upper end of saw this old wretch, apparently asking questions fulness of servants, is certainly very proper and joke, and thinking this might furnish one, I climb- ceremony and deceitful professions, it is certainly ed into the house by the back way and from an reprehensible, and may be classed with the follies adjoining room overheard their conversation, and crimes of the age. "Repeat your dream," said the old woman " and if in my power I will unravel it." "I dream'd, said the miser, that some person would in a short time come to me and request me to perform some action; that if I complied not with his request, my wealth would depart from me, and ere many days passed I should die, and that eternal tor ments in the next world should be my portion. I dream'd that I should know the person by his saying " Neither heaven nor hell is to be trifled The old woman with all the self importance of fortune-telling wisdom, told him it was a very strange dream, and one that her cards could afford no clue to, but advised him if any person called and requested him to perform any action, to obey such request scrupulously, and without delay, for that she knew too much of such dreams not to be aware, that to pay no attention to their meanings, was to defy hell, and disregard heaven. He then left her presence; I retreated from my iding place, and returned home, ruminating or the scene I had witnessed. I perceived there was a good opportunity to quiz the old fellow. For such an one I had often wished. I determined to avail myself of it and to make it subservient to some useful purpose. You now know the cause of his terror. When I whispered in his ear, I repeated the ominous words which he so much dreaded. "But," said I, "how can you continue your joke? when he goes to morrow evening to the place you have designated, he will see no one there." "I have taken care of that, said Tom. A poor man came to me yesterday and told an heart rending tale of distress. He was emigrating to the western country from the New England states and when within a few miles of our village was taken sick. A wife and four helpless children were with him. They stopped at a tavern, and he was so long confined by his illness, that when be recovered, their little finances were expended, The inhuman landlord finding this was their situation, turned them out of his house, and they had tasted no food for upwards of thirty bours, when I accidentally met them. I relieved their immediate wants, and would have furnished them with funds sufficient to prosecute their journey, but my purse is not large enough to do all that my heart would dictate. I told this man to be at street, at the hour I requested Sordid to meet him, and to solicit of the old miser as much money as would take him to the end of his journey. Trepresented Sordid as being a charitable old man, who was fond of performing benevolent actions in an eccentric manner; and told him that if he took his wife and children there, it would make a greater impression. He promised to do as I advised, and no doubt will perform his promise. Call on me to-morrow evening and we will retired to rest, thinking what a strange mixture of mischievousness and goodness, was my friend. The next evening I waited on him, and about ten o'clock we repaired to the scene of action. The poor man and his family were already there. We took refuge in an adjoining alley, from whence we could see all that might occur. A few minutes afterwards the miser appeared, and without say ing a word to the traveller, placed a bag in his hands and went away. This bag, as we learned the next day, contained two hundred dollars. The ensuing morning the traveller called with his family, on Tom. I was present. He thanked my friend for his kindness, and bade his little children kneel to their benefactor, who had prevented them from starvation and ruin. It was an affect ing scene, tears of gratitude stood in his wife eye. P'shaw, said Tom, what a fuss you make. only served you to gratify myself, for he who assiets a brother in distress, is thereby made happier

"PLL LEAVE MY CARD"

The present may, with much propriety, be styled the age of heartlessness. Empty ceremony and heartless formality have usurped the place of friendly attentions and social intercourse. Modern politeness is exactly opposed to sincerity. There seems to be a tacit understanding between man fades, majes ic man." and man, woman and woman, to deceive and be deceived; and he who plays off these counterfeit tricks the most adroitly, is the most polished and

Walking the other day with a friend, or with one who makes friendly pretensions-" If you will excuse me a moment," said he, "I will call on Mr. Clericus; he is out of town, I believe; I shall overtake you with a few steps." So saying he took from his pocket a card-case-knocked at the door-made the accustomed inquiry, and handed his card to the servant. "Cancelled at a lucky moment," said be, when he had overtaken mealways observe great punctuality in returning the civilities of my friends .- " But why," I inquired, "did you call on Mr. C. when you knew he was not at home." "Oh!" exclaimed he, "It answers every purpose of a visit, and is far less trouble : h is vastly tedious; but I was in debt to him on the score of civilities"-This paper currency, I find, is in general circulation; the sterling coin of real friendship has become scarce; now and then we meet with a few antiquated pieces, but they are pretty much out of date. "Mama," said the Misses Stylishes, "we shall go out this morning, and make calls; the day is fine, and ladies will generally be out; the Misses Oldates are on a journey to the White Hills; Miss Mantrim returns soon from Newburyport, and Miss Trimarket is staying in Boston," " You can leave my cards," said the mother, with matronly honesty, not to be at home, the servant will not notice the mistake.

Now I am strongly opposed to all this from moral considerations. The young are instructed in dissimulation and insincerity; servants are taught to reconnoitre at the porch window and prevaricate. The human character is sufficiently bad, it much needs amendment. Let the circle of one's friends be small if he chooses; but let it be hearty and gennine with those who profess to be united in the silken bands of friendship. All this open, fair and honourable-it is disgraceful in the human character-mere stuff-empty chaff-lighter than the paper that is made the vehicle of their sprightly knock summoned the servant to the door am honest and consistent, you see. I will not me so, and set me laughing about it; for -"I am not at home this morning, Susan." I the week allowed. The meadow, where in true is this, that you go into — street, to morrow am honest and consistent, you see. I will not played—this recalled the contentedness of mind, a family in the utmost distress, famishing with if she detects my scribbling—The servant entered made up my mind to be always the first to played—this recalled the contentedness of mind, hunger, and miserable in the extreme; relieve on the distress'd, tour's breast, when, climbing the stile which led into Where pleasures dwell, it, I left behind me the book and the task. How the sunshine of the youthful breast burst forth most sunk to the ground with awe and astonish- handing me the one just received. By my ledupon me, and the gushing spirit of unreigned and ment. We left the house, and I was scarcely ger," said I, "it blushes." "You are satirical, my ing up Doctor Chargewell's bill, which I had just paid] with professional men, as well as professional women." This card-leaving custom, conferred to its legithe village. When I drew nigh to her window, I timate use, to obviate the carelessness, or forgetof her with great earnestness. Ever fond of a convenient; but when made the instrument of idle

DOMESTIC HAPPINESS.

Oh! what is so refreshing, so southing, so satisfying, as the placid joys of home? See the traveller-does duty call him for a see. son to leave his beloved circle ! The image of his earthly happiness continues vividly in by remembrance, it quickens him to diligence; it makes him hail the hour which sees his purpose accomplished, and his face turned towards home; it communes with him as he journies, and he bears the promise which causes him to hope, " Thou shalt know also that the tabernacle shall be in peace, and thou shalt visit thy tabernacle and not sin."-O the joyful re-union of a divided family-the Behold the man of science-He drops the labour and painfulness of research-closes his volume-smooths his wrinkled brows-leaves his study-and unbending himself stoops to the capacities, yields to the wishes, and mingles with the diversions of his children.

pleasures of renewed interview and conversation

after days of absence.

He will not blush that has a father's heart, To take in childish play a childish part; But bends his sturdy neck to play the toy That youth takes pleasure in, to please his boy."

Take the man of trade-What reconciles him to the toil of business? What enables him to endure the fastidiousness and impertinence of customers? What rewards him for so many hours of tedious confinement! By-and-bye the season of intercourse will arrive; he will behold the desire of his eyes and the children of his love for whom he resigns his ease; and in their welfare and smiles he will find his recompense.

Yonder comes the labourer-He has borne the burden and heat of the day; the descending sun has released him from his toil; and he is hastening home to enjoy repose. Half way down the lane, by the side of which stands his cottage, his children run to meet him. The companion of his humble life is ready to furnish him with his plain repast. See, his toil worn countenance assumes an air of cheerfulness; his hardships are forgotten; fatigue vanished, he eats and is satisfied .watch the result-Good night." We parted and The evening fair, he walks with uncovered head rest; and " the rest of a laborning man is sweet whether he eat little or much." Inhabitant of this lowly dwelling! who can be indifferent to thy comfort? Peace be to this house?

> "Let not ambition mock their useful toil. Their homely joys and destiny obscure; For grandeur hear with a disdainful smile, The short and simple annals of the poor."

There is no period of the year so calculated to waken those feelings which the Poet has denominated "mournful but pleasing," as the present,-The beautiful hues which diversify the woodland scenery, when the forest trees rise "shade above shade, a woody theatre," mixed with the sombre, but constant green of the Pine, and contrasted by the brown suit which has succeeded those mingled sensations which delight in the present view, but which carry our ideas to the desolation which Winter brings. Even now the path strewed with fallen leaves, and the muttering of gathering storms, press upon the feelings, and we cannot but connect it with ideas, "thus flourishes, thus

UGLINESS.

Perhaps no lady was ever better reconiled to positive ugliness in her own person than the Duchess of Orleans, the mother of the Regent d'Orleans, who governed

France during the minority of Louis XV. Thus she speaks of her own appearance and manners: "From my earliest years I was aware how ordinary my appearance was, and did not like that people should look at me attentively. I never paid any attention to dress, because diamonds and dress were sure to attract attention. My husband, on the other hand, loved to cover himself with jewels, and was well satisfied at my dislike of them, as it saved all disputes for the possession of them. On great days he used to make me rouge, which I did greatly against my will, as I hate every thing that incommodes me .-One day I made the Countess Soissons laugh heartily. She asked me why I never turned my head whenever I passed before a mirror-every body else did. I answer-Homebread's and Mrs. Starchcap's, if they happen | ed because I had too much self-love to bear the sight of my own ugliness. I must have been very ugly in my youth. I had no sort of features; with little twinkling eyes, a short soub nose, and long thick lins, the whole of my physiognomy was far from attractive. My face was large, with fat cheeks, and yet my figure was short and Stumpy; in short, I was a very homely sort of person. Except for the goodness of my disposition no one would have endured me. It was impossible to discover any thing like intelligence in my eyes, except with s microscope. Perhaps there was not on the face of the earth such another pair of ugly hands as mine. The King often told laugh at it. This succeeded very well, though I must confess it furnished me with

TO THE GOVERMENTAL CHAIR OF PENNSYLVANIA

FELLOW-CITIZENS, Entertaining as I do the opinion, that nothing should be more desirable to a good citizen than the esteem of a virtuous and free people, I will not attempt to disguise the pleasure, with which I now render to you my most grateful thanks, for the testimony that you have given me of your confidence and regard.

And although the small services I have been enabled to perform in the course of my public duties, were wholly inadequate to the attainment of so splendid a distinction, yet I am not insensible to the expectations of my fellow citizens as manifested in the result of the late election. For without the vanity to suppose, that they intended by their suffrages to express their approbation of my former conduct, I cannot but consider, that in this pledge of their confidence there is an implied persuasion of the purity of my motives and the soundness of my political principles. It shall therefore be my unremitted endeavour, in monwealth, to justify this favourable sentiutmost exertions of my humble abilities ed to our charge. with an honest zeal for the public good.

A frequent and an anxious examination of the conduct of their magistrates, is an indispensable duty of freemen. It is essential to the preservation of liberty, that it should be guarded with jealous eyes .-Conscious of the rectitude of my intentions, though diffident of my capability of executing the arduous trust with which I have been honoured, I would not deprecate, but on the contrary, would respectfully invite the attention of my fellow citizens to the measures of their government.

I must, however, bespeak their indulgence for the errors of judgment which in so difficult a station must frequently occur. All I can additionally promise is, that my inclinations will heartily second the solemn injunctions of the obligation by which I have just bound myself, to support our excellent constitutions. Bred up with a profound veneration for those illustrious charters, every day of my life enforces the conviction, that they are to be ranked among the most important benefits, that human wisdom has conferred upon mankind .-At any other period, it might be deemed superfluous to commend the principles which they contain, to the reverence and fostering care of my fellow-citizens. But the present times are distinguished by extraordinary events. A combination the most formidable the world ever witnessed, exists amongst the potentates of Europe, the object of which is nothing less than the entire prostration of the rights of man .he barriers of national independence have been forced, and a crusade carried on ter was singularly affected by this phenomenon, against the liberties of nations whose only offence was a calm and peaceful attempt to improve their political condition. We have moreover seen a despotism whose very existence is a stain upon the escutcheon of Christian Europe, exercising the most unheard of atrocities upon a Christian people who were struggling to be free. The Holy Alliance looked on with folded arms, whilst the Turkish barbarians were polluting the altars, plundering the temples, burning cities and butchering the inhabitants of Christian Greece. Neither the ties of a common faith, nor the admiration of her ancient splendour and heroic virtues, excited in the bosoms of that heartless conspiracy the least sympathy for the mother of republics. They regarded the regeneration of liberty in Greece, as adverse to the cause of thrones. In support of that cause doctrines have been promulgat d by the league of despots in direct and deadly hostility to the principles upon which our institutions are founded. Whether the light of freedom is destined to be extinguished in Europe or to beam forth with brighter effulgence, we shall have equal reason to cherish the generous flame which animated the valour of our forefathers, and to preserve unsullied the lib .: ties which they have handed down. In either case it will behove us, not only to rejoice in the advantages which we possess, in a government founded upon the consent of the people and maintained by their authority, but from a two-fold motive of gratitude to our ancestors and love to our children, to transmit to posterity those advantages unimpaired.

It will not be expected, fellow-citizens of the General Assembly, that I should at this time attempt to call your attention to Mayor's office, was found two watch springs, made the subjects which may be proper for your consideration during your sessions. Your own experience and better wisdom will suggest them in the regular course of your proceedings. I can only assure you that every measure for relieving the embarrasments of the community, for the improvement of the resources of our state, and for the promotion of the public welfare, will be supported by the ready and unreserved co-operation of the executive branch of the government.

You will allow me nevertheless to submit a few remarks upon one or two topics of paramount importance. Former Legislatures turned their attention, with a liberality which did them great honour, to the subject of education. It must be acknowledged, however, that much remains to be accomplished in this respect, and that the requisitions of the constitution are still in a great measure unanswered. The object of the convention, seems to have been to diffuse the means of rudimental education so extensively, that they should be completely within the reach of all—the poor who could not pay for them as well as the recommend this subject to your considera-

Another point which I would respectfully suggest, relates to the encouragement of industry at home As this is a subject more peculiarly within the province of the national government, I would submit the propriety of your requesting our representation in Congress, to exert its influence in establishing a tariff, which would completely protect American manufactures. The experience of seven years, has shown that little dependance is to be placed upon the foreign demand for our agricultural products. It has been the policy of the most enlightened and prosperous nations of Europe, to exclude all articles of foreign growth or manufacture which they can themselves produce. One nation, by pursuing an opposite course, has sunk into an abyss of poverty and imbecility, though supported by all the mines of Mexico and Peru .-These examples teach a lessen too intelligible to be misunderstood.

Tendering to you individually my best wishes for your personal happiness, I conclude with a sincere prayer that our efforts and deliberations may be crowned with success in the advancement of the the administration of the affairs of the com- true interests of our constituents, and that an all-gracious Providence will shower its ment; and to that effort I will dedicate the blessings upon the commonwealth entrust-

J. ANDREW SHULZE. December 16, 1823.

Great Earthquake at Valparaiso.

The following is a circumstantial account of the great Earthquake which occurred at Valparaiso on the 19th of November, 1822, as related by gentleman, who was there at the time; although took place some time since, yet many of the deails are new and highly interesting. "The weather, this evening, was remarkably pleasant, and not the least thing occurred, which could be considered as an indication of the dread ful earthquake which laid this city in ruins. I had scarcely retired to bed, when all at once, the house began to shake violently; the plaster flew about in all directions, and the furniture was thrown down with great force. I immediately sprung up, and notwithstanding the darkness, reached the outer door, after having been thrown down several times. The door was locked, and to add to my misfortune, the key fell out. Here then, was I without a light, locked up in a dark entry, and expecting every moment that the house would fall, and bury me beneath the ruins. With presence of mind, surprising even to myself, I stooped down, and to my joy, laid hold of the key.

"After I had escaped from the house, I was still ignorant of what course to take, when I perceived a light in the court, and followed the direction of it, reached the street in safety. Here, all was consternation and uproar-the ground appeared like the waves of the sea-the air was filled with dust-and the inhabitants were flying in every direction. By this time, the first shock had ceased. Being almost naked, I turned back to get my clothes, but had scarcely reached the house, when a second shock commenced, with less violence, however, than before. Having, at length, obtained my clothes, I went to the beach, with the view of getting aboard the ship-there were cracks in shore of width and depth sufficient for the insertion of a man's arm. her guns lifted from the deck, as if by magicand the vessel appeared as if she had struck on the rocks. If the earthquake had continued much longer, our decks must have been stove through, the guns came down with such violence.

The native inhabitants, for the most part, fled to the mountains, but the resident foreigners took shelter on board the vessels lying there. On go. ing ashore, the next day, I observed that a small building, scarcely six yards from our house, had been completely covered by the dirt and stones which fell from the mountain, at whose base it stood. Our house was not thrown down; for it was one of the strongest in Valparaiso; but was so much racked, that it did not appear worth repairing. Captains of vessels which arrived after the earthquake, remarked that they frequently saw large shoals of fish lying dead on the surface

"Among the sufferers by this melancholy event. was an Irishman, who having acquired a large fortune by commerce, had that day, retired into a new house in the country. At the time when the earthquake occurred, his two children were sleeping, one on a couch in the corner of the room, the other on a mattrass in the middle of the floor. As they were thus lying a beam fell across the couch, and crushed it to atoms, while another fell apon the mattrass, and overwhelmed it with the suins A short time after, they were both dug out, not in the least hurt, and restored to the arms of their distracted parents.

" But to recount every particular of thin awful event, would carry me beyond my limits; suffice t to say, that shocks were felt more or less, for the space of three months."

Weekin Compendium.

A man was run over by a gig a few evenings since, near the corner of Fourth and Walnut street -he was immediately taken to the Hospital, but little hope is entertained of his recovery.

On Wednesday, Asher Clark and Harry Lea, were brought before the Mayor and by him committed to Prison, for having broken out of the Jail of New York, where they had been sentenced to be confined. In the inside of the hatband of one of those convicts, which was taken off in the into saws, and a saw of a similar construction was found in one of their pockets. It is not improbable but it was with the assistance of these or simi lar saws that these prisoners broke out of the jail at New York.

Rev. Mr. Summerfield .- We have great satisfaction (says the Democratic Press) in stating that recent accounts from Europe assure us of the perfect recovery of the health of the Rev. Mr. Summerfield. He is expected in the United States, in all the present winter.

Captain Tear, of the brig Ruth, arrived at this port, from Gibraltar, states that the United States ship Constitution, having on board our minister to Spain, Mr. Nelson, was expected to sail for Cadiz about the third of November.

We learn from the same source, that a French fleet, sailed from Algesiras on the first of November, and proceeded up the Mediterranean, Captain Chaytor, of the schooner Express, arrived at Baltimore, from Curacoa, states that a few days before sailing, two Colombian sloops of war touched off that place, having on board the Royal garrison, (900 men) of Porto Cavello, capiulated to the Patriots, bound to St. Jago de Cuba.

The Treasurer of the American Bible Society acknowledge the receipt, during the month of November of $2604 16. The issues from the Depository, during the same period were 2147 Bibles, and 1427 Testaments, valued at $2032 31.

A letter from the Clerk of the steamboat Cinwho could not pay for them as well as the rich who could. Convinced that even liberty without knewledge is but a precarious sequence of running upon a snag. The passen- either by the coasts of America or Siberis, to the blessing, I cannot therefore too strongly gers, (and among them Prince Paul, of Wittem- discovered, but by doubling lcy Cape.

C. nine persons have been indicted by the grand away on the coast of Newfoundland, on the 1st of Intelligence for Tipplers .- At Stokes county, N. jury, for habitual drunkenness.

Mrs. Brown, of New London, Conn. was lately burnt, while in a state of intoxication, in such manner, that she survived but a few hours.

Mr. E. Fillow, of Norfolk, Conn. was killed a few days since, while in a state of intoxication,-He fell before the wheel of a loaded cart which he was driving, and was crushed to death.

An agreement has been entered into by some per sons in South Carolina, by which the subscriber bind themselves not to vote for any drunkard who may be a candidate for any place of trust, honor, or emolument.

Portable Gas - A late London paper notices the starting of one of the regular coaches at eight o'clock at night, brilliantly illuminated with portable oil gas, amidst the acclamations of a large concourse of people. The experiment, it is said has succeeded beyond the most sanguine expectations of the projectors.

In a severe gale from S. W. at Eastport, on the 4th inst, all the vessels in the harbor were driven from their anchors, and several went ashore, and all of them more or less injured. The schooners Mary, Bell, and Fair Play, got foul of each other, sunk at the wharf, and two men drowned. The Black Snake and Swallow filled. The Resolution Scott, loaded for the West Indies, damaged and obliged to unload. A brig, supposed the Mary Carver, for Demarara, had been ashore at W

Quoddy, and was seen with a signal of distress. It is said the British Government has determin ed to send 50 Methodist Missionaries to the Wes

There have been six Methodist Churches, erect ed on (what is denominated) the Boston district this season, most of which are, or will soon be finished, and several more are to be built soon.

A Navy Agent in England has written to his correspondent in Jamaica that the widows of navy officers, who had forfeited their pensions by mar rying, might have them again, and that three years f arrestages had been received for ladies in tha

Mr. Erasmus H. Simon, a converted Jew, has re cently arrived in the United States, from Europe with a view to usefulness in the contemplated set tlement under the patronage of the American So ciety for the meliorating the condition of the Jews

A German emigrant was burnt to death at Vandalia, Illinois, while attempting to prevent his hay from being destroyed by the burning of a The election of the Rev. G. Richard, (a Roman Catholic priest) as a delegate to congress from the territory of Michigan, is contested by Major John

The schr. Adeline, Israel, of and for this port from Cape Haytien, was lost on Monday week, off Cape Henlopen. The passengers and crew were saved. Gen. D'Evereaux, of the Colombian Army was one of the passengers.

The National Intelligencer states that 259 sub scribers have been added to its subscription list, exclusive of Congressional and legislative patronage, within the last thirty days.

The municipality of Vaux in Switzerland, have presented their thanks to the Magistrates of New York, for causing to be cancelled the indentures of a Swiss boy, who was bound apprentice to a shoemaker in New York, and was ill treated by A Resolution is depending in the Legislature of this state, moved by Mr. Shippen, approving, is the strongest terms, the sentiments expressed in the Message of the President of the United States, in regard to South America, &c.

lature of Maryland, by Mr. W. G. D. Worthington, responding to the sentiments expressed by the President, respecting the cause of the Greeks, and the policy of the Allied Powers of Europe. A Harrisburg paper says-" It has been ascer tained, that the Present House of Representatives of this state, is composed of one hundred mem bers, viz. 56 farmers, 8 manufacturers, 10 merchants, 7 artists, 12 lawyers, 1 physician, 3 surveyors, 1 innkeeper, and 2 capitalists, of whom 79 are married, 3 widowers, and 18 entitled to the distinguished appellation of Old Bachelors." General Cortez and suit sailed from Mobile, or the 22d ult. in the brig Admittance for New York. on their way to Washington City. During their stay in Mobile, Gen. C. and the gentlemen who accompany him, have, by their deportment commanded the highest esteem of all who had the pleasure of their acquaintance.

The Legislature of New Jersey, adjourned on the 12th inst. after a session of six weeks, during which fifty-nine acts were passed. Among these were an act to reduce the rate of interest to six per cent. An act to abolish imprisonment for debt in certain cases. And an act to incorporate the New Jersey Manufacturing and Banking Com-

Mr. Johnson of the House of Delegates of Ma. ryland, has obtained leave to bring in a bill to confirm the act passed at the last session of the legislature, to secure to all the citizens of that state the same civil rights and religious privileges as are enjoyed under the constitution of the United States.

Lower Canada.-The long existing financial diff ficulties in Lower Canada have recently been greatly increased by the defalcation of the Receiver, to the amount of 96,000 pounds, (equal to $384,000.)

Captain CARTER of the Navy, is appointed to the command of the sloop of war Peacock, which is now lying in the port of Norfolk ready for sea.

The imports of raw Cotton into the port of Providence, (R. I.) for the month of November, amounted to 2,022 bales. The sales during the same month amounted to 1560 bales, which we suppose may be taken for the average monthly consumption of the manufactories of that distric of country, amounting to not far short of 20,000 bags per year of the value of nearly or quite s million of dollars.

Kingston papers to the 11th of November, state that the Union, Lieut. Henderson had arrived there with the schooner Eugenia, under Dutch colors, which she fell in with on the 2d of November, and captured after an exchange of nine shots.-The Eugena had two guns, and was originally from St. Eustatia, whence she proceeded to the coast of Calabar, Africa, and was at the time of her capture bound to St. Jago de Cuba, with 237 staves on board.

The Captain of the schr. General Stricker, ar. rived at Baltimore from Porto Rico, states, that the Spanish privateer that was taken by her crew, from Mayaguez, is now cruizing in the Lomoona passage, robbing every vessel that she falls in with She is a fine brig, and sails very fast; she was built in Baltimore.

Age of Invention .- Mr. Christopher Hoxie, an ingenious mechanist, of Hudson (N. Y.) has invented a model, which he supposes he can apply to the? propelling of ships and vessels, without the aid of wind or steam. The propelling power necessary, is to be acquired by the rolling of the ship, and the force given by a pendulum of enormous weight, according to the tonnage of the ves-

A letter from Frankfort, dated October 16th says :- " The Russian Captain Otto Von Kotzebue, who, for the third time, has undertaken a voyage of discovery round the world, will, conforma-bly to the instructions which he has received, dou-

trick, Capt. Frazer, from London, which was cast

Upwards of 6000 Indians are said to have visited Malden, Upper Canada, during the past summer.

An extensive establishment for bleaching and rinting calico has lately been founded at Taunton, Ma-sachusetts. There are but three or four calico manufactories in the United States-one near this city, one at Chelmsford, and another at Charlestown, Mass. Judge Foster .- A short time before this great lawyer's death, he went to Oxford Circuit, in one of the hottest summers that had been remembered-his charge to the Grand Jury was as follows: Gentlemen, the weather is extremely hot; I am very old, and you are very well acquainted with your duty; practise it."

A large company of persons accused of being concerned in counterfeiting specie dollars, have been arrested in Upper Canada, and many of their implements found-among them, tools for counterfeiting doubloons and bank bills. Among the suspected persons are several physicians, apothecaries, blacksmiths, and a number of young attor-

PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION.

DE WITT CLINTON has been nominated for President, and Gen. Andrew Jackson for Vice President, by a "numerous and respectable meeting of the citizens of Jefferson county, Ohio," held in the town of Steubenville, on Tuesday, 2d of Dec .-The meeting also protested against the system of Congressional Caucus nominations.

At a meeting of a respectable number of the citizens of Cincinnati, Ohio, it was resolved, that they would "ever oppose, by all lawful means, the odious system of Legislative and Congressional Cau-

The Law ws. Judge Keyes .- The Rutland (Vt.) lerald mentions a novel circumstance concerning ludge Keyes, recently a representative in Congress from that state. The Judge having been beaten in a law suit, petitioned the legislature for new trial, which was refused. Indignant at the decision, he went home at the close of the session, and gathered up all his law books-carried them out into the highway, and in presence, as it is said, of a number of his brother members on their return home, communicated fire to the pile, and consumed the whole, intimating at the same time, that his house should never again be disgraced with any more of the laws of Vermont!

The London Gazette announces an intention of applying to Parliament, in the ensuing Session, for leave to bring in a Bill to permit the construction of a subterannean double archway or tunnel, in and through the parish of St. Mary, Rotherhithe, and to be continued under the bed of the river Thames into and through St. John, Wapping. It is intended for the use of carriages and foot passengers, so that if this design be realised, a carriage may travel, or a man walk immediately under the Thames.

One of the most heinous acts perhaps recorded the catalogue of crimes, was committed in Huntsville, (Alab.) on the 19 ult. by Jack Jones, a oung man, upon the body of his brother William Jones, who both resided in the house with their widowed mother. It appears that a dispute arose between them on the morning of this unfortunate transaction, the cause of which is too trivial to attract notice. The younger brother's passion being highly excited, and his feelings calling for revenge, he fled to a fork, which the deceased succeeded in wresting from him; his next effort was a gun which proved empty, and was taken from him; he then seized a loaded gun, the contents of which he lodged in the body of his brother, who expired in a few minutes, and then he made his

The sehr. Betsey, Dennis, 8 days from Turk's Island, arrived at Georetown (S. C.) on Saturday. 6th inst. Captain Dennis reports that on the 17th Nov. being then two hours out from St. Thomas, the Betsey was attacked by a small boat, manned with 6 negroes and a mulatto, When within pistol shot, several muskets were discharged at her, and the fire kept up briskly for an hour. The B. was before the wind; but by their rowing and sailing, they kept even pace, pouring their balls into the cabin windows and rigging, demanding her surrender, threatening at the same time to murder every soul on board. She received ten balls in the main-sail, and several in the foresail. The first shot came through the cabin window, passed between the captain's legs, and lodged in the bulk head. The crew managed to barricade the helms. man to ward off the bullets, then turned their attention to getting out ballast stones, in order to sink the boat, should they gain the vessel, as there was not a gun on board. Fortunately the wind sprang up at night and they lost sight of her.

We learn, says the United States Gazette, that Mr. James Kitchen having declined the superintendance of the Merchants' Coffee House, Mr. Joseph M. Sanderson will assume the direction of that place "where merchants most do congregate." From the intelligence of Mr. Sanderson, and his active stirring habits, we venture to pre. dict that the station so long and advantageously occupied by Mr. Kitchen, will continue to be ably and effectually filled. The talents of Mr. Sanderson will undoubtedly be occupied in improving the establishment, and rendering it more and more worthy of the patronage of the merchants of the city, whose interests are in some measure identified with the activity and zeal of the keeper of the Coffee House.

ERIE CANAL -The wealth and importance of the state of New-York, cannot be more fully developed, than by a perusal of the following statement of the amount of property which has passed through the Grand Canal, and entered at the collector's office, at Utica, during the last season .-We make the extract from the Utica Sentinel, the editor of which paper says, the navigation closed on the middle section on the 29th of November, and on the eastern section some days previous.-He observes that it is believed some of the other offices will show a greater result. In this account no mention is made of the Packet boats, which are becoming very numerous, and pay a great revenue to the state.

2,398 boats arrived-119,142 barrels flour, 15,164 do. salt, 5,675 do. provisions, 8.594 do. pot and pearl ashes, 69 do. kelp, 276 do. beer, 491 do. oil, 125,798 bushels wheat, 67,917 do. water lime, 4,038 do. grass and flaxseed, 3,773 do. barley peas, &c. 505 do. peaches, 8,006 tons merchandize, 579 do. gypsum, 27 do. hops and shorts, 173 do. butter, 84 do. cheese, 46 do. lard, 73 do oysters and clams, $1 do. corn meal, 17 tons wool, 4 do congress water, 9 do hams, 311 do furniture, 594 do. iron castings, 151 do burr blocks, 117 do. tur, 92 do. Amboy clay, 100 do. sundries, 457 U.S. soldiers and baggage, 5,698 boxes glass, 175 in lath, 2,690 in shingles, 14,762 cedar posts, 20,032 sqr. feet timber, 1,864,147 feet boards and scantling, 6/1,911 oak|staves,1229.857 gallons whiskey, 383 live hogs, fire wood, building stone, brick sand, &c. not enu-

CAPTAIN PARTRIDGE.-This name (says Niles' Weekly Register) is familiar to the most of our readers, either as having superintended the military academy at West Point, or as the present superintendent of one of the best private schools that we have, located at Norwich, Vermont. His pupils are numerous—the sons of most respectable people in different states; and the discipline several hours, and paused at the United States' academy appears to be much observed at his establishment. The cadets, and then burnt alive.

or students, are instructed in military as various languages, mathematics, &c. ly encouraged to exhibit in pract in the books.

Now and then captain Partridge m of his pupils through the country, them to walking," which he country, tial part of elementary education. at the same time, in most mate observation, and determining the air by the use of the barometer, & efore us a journal of one drawn up by a cadet, which is remark. It was lately published in Intelligencer," to which we must sirous of obtaining particulars. The day marched as much as forty four forty and a third thirty two, &c Duc, w of their chief, were, at once, in minds and strengthened in their

General Morales.-There appears w truth in the report that this general, of his pledge not to serve against the Colombia, was actually collecting a vanna to attack that Republic. A le Jago, Cuba, Oct. 15th, published in papers, mentions the arrival there in from Havanna, of $47,000 for Morales 4000 troops had reached Principe on the St. Jago. After the numerous example fidy shown by his master Ferdinad known want of good faith in this gener not be a matter of surprise that he should gard the capitulation he entered into with a lombians and carry the scourge of war into their territory. It would have indeed, been a traordinary circumstance, if he had negler first opportunity that of following up the cipled career which he has all along pane

NEW-YORK CIRCUIT COURT-41 the 12th inst. came on for trial before Je and a Jury, an action for slander, in Silvanus Miller os. Mordecai M. Nosh, was demanded the sum of $10,000 den The action was founded upon a publication defendant in the Albany Argus, on the 50 ruary, 1821, in which the plaintiff was de with being a profligate old man, a notorion lisher of falsehoods, a political broker, &c. defendant on the trial did not undertake to the truth of the allegations, but to reduce the dict to nominal dansages, adduced aletter mi in the Evening Post, on the 31st of the pre month, signed by the plaintiff, in which the fendant was accused of having offered to say ate with the Clineanian party to desert that of Republicans, in whose pay and employment then was for the sum of $7000 under the cor a loan. The plaintiff then adduced proof of truth of the charge, and this prominent fact ed the main issue of the trial. The case was ably argued by Messrs. Eme Van Wyck and Haines for the plaintiff, and Messrs Anthon and Price for the defendant commenced at 10 o'clock in the morning, an not committed to the jury until one o'clock-Friday night. On Saturday morning at ten o'de the jury returned into Court, stating that a could not agree ubon a verdict, whereupon papers were received back by the Court, and ury were discharged. The cause therefore over of course to a future hearing.

By the schr. Fairplay, arrived at New-Inrom Aux Cayes, we learn, that a schooner m at Aux Cayes from New-York, which was seen and a guard of soldiers put on board, on according a suspicion that she had counterfest more board, which however, proved not to be the an and she was released. It appears that the ste severity will, in future, be pursued, in postar those who may be found guilty of into counterfeits of the national currency, side would seem, have been manufactured attell &

LATEST FROM CADIZ .- The see Blocks, Captain Smith, arrived at Baltimon, but Left the U.S. frigate Constitution, and ser. No such, the former landed Mr. Nelson, our Maine on the 3d Nov. and would sail for Gibralus out 8th; all well on board-left also in port, twe Pre ships of the line and four frigates, with sent smaller vessels. The French are putting as stores in Cadiz, for three years—there are at a sent 3000 French troops in that city. The Spa men of war, as soon as they arrive from 144, 2 sent to the navy yard, stripped and aid up Spanish troops are permitted to be under and the city. The French frigate La Toume, and from Cadiz, 5th November, with a aparith for nor, for Havana, and would bring homethern to Cadiz. Cadiz was overflowing with Asso

GOOD NEWS FROM THE GREEK Extract of a letter from the Correspondent of in lease

Commercial Advertiset, dated

SMIRNA, 29th Sep. 183

The affairs of the Greeks go on well have had some important successes in Romes The fleets have remained idle all summer. Captain Pacha was, by the last accounts, a telene. The Greeks will be too wise to rate tle with him; not to be beaten, is victors to In my opinion they have more to fear from sia, than the Turks. The mis-named Hoy Alexander governs that alliance. There exist this moment, in my view, a more powerful a nation against the rights and liberties of again than ever before existed. The English of other nation; but I believe this feeling end with the people, than the government part, since the affair of Naples, I hate st the English Ministry to be perfectly in season the despots of Europe. There is the best too much of the spirit of fiberty is our ancestors, to allow them to indust a the opinions, without much caution, his topo that the Russians and Turks have small differences; and as the Fernains, (who are all be entirely under the influence of Russia) is made peace with the Turks, I am inclin lieve this report; and no doubt it is stiled as the legitimate brothers and cousies, will Greeks are to submit to. That Russia with wish to see them an independent nation, I is

THE GREEKS.—By the we are enabled to present, in the of a letter from Cambridge number of women and children, de slavery, and to all the infamous p masters, from the ill-fated island of son is the American, whose bosom doce indignation at such barbarity i whose land not strike in such a cause.

can believe.

Extract of a letter from Cambridge, Man.

December 29.

Official returns from the Turkish Custom

It Soin record Polytra 2018 At Scio, report FORTY ONE THOUSAN MEN AND CHILDREN to have been slaves, and to have paid auction duties slaves, and to have paid auction June, fice, in the months of May and June, fathers, brothers, and husban and children met with a more en

The fact of the number of slaves is f were butchered. authority of the French Historical 1822, a very authentic and respewhich the chapters on Greece appear to up from materials transmitted by the Fro

A French Journal relates a fresh fury of the Turks against the Greek fury of the Turks against the bren.

A rest called Christ, has just bren the being it several hours, and paraded the the dress of a buffoon, he was

ventug

PHILADELPHI.

orday, December 20 PUBLIC MEETING PRESIDENTIAL ELEC Chizens of the City and Co. who are friendly to univers niest government, to frequen and religious right of the ust and proper, and who are cracy, are respectfully invitemeeting at the County Court and Chesnut-streets, this stat half past 6 o'elock, to t with regard to the P - sident CHANDLER

THOMAS I WILLIAM LEVI GARR HENRY HOL JAMES RON

ad, with which the Saturday Ex sed, warrants this change, and will be solicited to advertise their nam Register Column, unless they are tages resulting from it will be mal charge of two dollars. e owe an apology to the ir request that we would insert from the National Gazette, la ionally escaped our notice, unt . From more recent accounts i learn with pleasure, that after ned by sickness, twenty-five men should do to you, do ye have been informed by Emmo alone produces greater order an School, and inculcates a more in the manners of the childre seen produced in any School by a cannot close these observations respectable references given in t re of Jacob Pierce, and Thomas ends' Academy, South Fourth stre rner, Samuel Spackman, Willis hesnut st.) Samuel Archer, R. b. nes Kitchen, or FROMAS KIMBER, Harrisburg presented, do doubt, erable bustle on Tuesday last, it apart for the inauguration of c , J. Andrew Shulze, E.q. Ti House of Representatives were rly hour. The front, and also epared for the occasion, were reies. Precisely at 12 o'clock, ot entered the Capital, accompan vernor, and escorted by several plunteers. The pressure of the oceed to business for nearly half e Governor from his chair, on th eaker of the House, and on the left of the Senate, delivered his inaugu hich will be found in another part er which, he was again escorted his lodgings, Here the Voluntee ew before him and the late Gove hich they remained uncovered, t ring considerably at the time. Morrow C. Rockus, Esq. of Lancas inted Secretary of the Commons

SUCCESS TO THE GREE The students of Yale College have the treasurer of the "Greek Fo the sam of Five Hundred Doll that college. One Hundred Do fierd from J. B. Yates, Esq. beside or donations, in aid of a cause whi such warm and generous feelings land, as becomes the descendant in, and the herpes who planned adependence ; as becomes the at and free republic, which claim praise of being the only nation tre man is left free and unshack impulses of those principles and ent in his nature—which were given reator, but which ignorance and e combined to wrest from him, dark a period of time. The age en that dormant spirit has began Is and the world now presents the tacle of two powerful divisions are a other. Por h is no longer a part and regard to the P sidential election as CHANDLER PRICE, THOMAS LEIPER, WILLIAM DUNCAN. Morales, and the LEVI GARRET, HENRY HORN, JAMES RONALDSON.

nto with the C

employment h stating that the e Court, and the son, our Minis

port, two Fren

29th Sept. 1823.

go on well the amed Holy not excepted;

feeling exists me

we been that

Gibraltar on the

are putting nard

NEW ARRANGEMENTS.

ement of the ensuing year, we inteneras of our advertising, to correspond with plation of the paper-And also to add to our SA GENERAL REGISTER," in which the ing, and residence of such persons as may wish tent of two lines, will be conspicuously inserted at the pest, at the additional charge of two dollars. was not exceeding a square, our terms after January, 1924, will be 50 cents for the first and far every subsequent insertion, with a discount of nemire and increasing circulation, both at home breed, with which the Saturday Evering Post is now mind, warrant the change, and will at the same time der it easter all considerations, by far the cheapest and whale paper for advertising that has yet been offer-

The wint it expressly to be understood, that there herein intended as regards the present subscription the paper. When we first penned the above it was to be afficiently explicit, but as the article has a signatured by some, we shall further say, that no ar legiter Column, unless they are fully satisfied that ge resulting from it will be equivalent to the and charge of two dollars.

seeme an apology to the Superintendant and den of the French Creek Boarding School .request that we would insert their advertise. from the National Gazette, last month, unininally escaped our notice, until it was out of From more recent accounts from the School, har with pleasure, that after a long recess, samed by sickness, twenty-five scholars have sembled, and the number of applications for almissions give the expectation of considera faresse. This is as it should be, and as the limullechildren towards one another is a practal and command observation, upon principle, of that men should do to you, do ye even so them." We have been informed by Emmor Kimber that this alone produces greater order and decorum in the School, and inculcates a more finished politesess in the manners of the children than he has er seen produced in any School by any penal laws. Vecannot close these observations without noting he respectable references given in the School ad efficient, "Those who may incline to place her shildren in the School are requested to enpire of Jacob Pierce, and Thomas Dugdale, at heads' Academy, South Fourth street; of Joseph

mer, Samuel Spackman, William Stevenson

Bestut st.) Samuel Archer, Robert Walsh, jun.

baskitchen, or FROMAS KIMBER, No. 93 Market

Bridger presented, do doubt, a scene of conlimble busile on Tuesday last, it being the day that he the inauguration of our new Gover-M. A. ANDREW SHULZE, E.q. The Galleries of effoue of Representatives were crowded at an my lour. The front, and also an extra scat pard for the occasion, were reserved for the Lades, Precisely at 12 o'clock, the Governor lest estendihe Capital, accompanied by the late femor, and escorted by several companies of solters. The pressure of the crowd, at this me, in the House, was so severe as to cause condetable confusion, and render it impossible to nered to business for nearly half an hour after. Governor from his chair, on the right of the taker of the House, and on the left of the Speak of the Senate, delivered his inaugural Address, thich will be found in another part of this paper.) which, he was again escorted by the military his lodgings. Here the Volunteers passed in her before him and the late Governor, during the they remained uncovered, though it was storing considerably at the time.

Mana C. Roomes, Esq. of Lancaster, has been Secretary of the Commonwealth.

SUCCESS TO THE GREEKS.

estudents of Vale College have transmitted thaturer of the "Greek Fund" in New the sun of sice Hundred Dollars, collected Weslege. One Hundred Dollars was also Militam J. B. Vates, Esq. besides numerous mations, in aid of a cause which has excitand generous feelings throughout 4 as becomes the descendants of Washand the hetpes who planned and achieved endence i as becomes the citizens of a and free republic, which claims the exclupaise of being the only nation among men, man is left free and unshackled, to follow spalses of those principles and rights inhea his nature which were given him by his an but which ignorance and superstition combined to wrest from him, for so long ark a period of time. The age has arrived and the world now presents the interesting cof two powerful divisions areayed against ther. For a is no longer a partial or local onger a contest between Greeks

Europe sgainst the "Holy Alliance"-it is now. or if not, must eventually and soon become one general contest. The worthies of our revolution, our "Athenian senators," first blew the trumpet of Liberty, and with such a peal as has (perhaps, unexpected by them,) shaken the very thrones of tyranny, and awoke man from his long sleep .-The beacon of hope has began to blaze, and will not cease to burn. Light and darkness are contending for the mastery—the struggle may be protracted, but the issue cannot, for a moment, be

We have received the excellent Address of the Committee on Greek affairs, appointed in this city, on the evening of the 11th inst. but are unavoidably compelled to omit the gratification of giving it entire to our readers. They observe, that some may be scrupulous in bestowing aid, lest it should be applied to the furtherance of the warlike operations of the Greeks. It is therefore proposed to receive subscriptions which "shall be remitted to Greece for the sole purpose of contributing to the relief of private distress." Speaking of Greece, they observe, that "remote as she is, her cry has been echoed from the shores of these continents, and the blaze of her burning cities glared across the intervening seas. You have viewed the destruction of her churches, and murder of the ministers of her religion, and have shuddered at Christians; you have seen her soil devastated, and her sons trodden to the earth, and have glowed as patriots; you have beheld her children massacred, her matrons and maids dragged to slavery and pollution, and have felt as men." They say "there are, we know, theoretical philanthropists, who will sneer at humble and partial efforts to relieve extensive misery. But we also know how much, under certain circumstances even a little may effect.-There are veterans of our revolutionary war still alive, who could tell the true value of the coarsest meal, or the roughest garment, in the dark day of that conflict; there are childless matrons yet living, whose freezing and famishing infants, in that dreadful trial, the scantiest blanket might have preserved from perishing, the smallest morsel might have saved from starving. We ask you, then, for what you can with perfect convenience bestow, and, on behalf of our brethren of Greece, we will be grateful for the smallest donations." We are sure this address cannot fail of claiming a deep and general attention.

At a late meeting of the New-York Historical Society, an anniversary discourse was pronounced by William Sampson, Esq. on the origin and early history of the Common Law. The design of the orator was to show the barbarous origin of this law and the consequent impropriety of its general application in the present improved and enlightened state of jurisprudence, &c.

After the business of the society had been con cluded, the members sat down to a dinner, which, to use the language of a New-York editor, was served up in " the most elegant, genteel and splendid style;" a combination, he might have added. of rich terms indeed, where every God did seem to take a seat, to give the world assurance of a feast." Not having had an opportunity of testing the merits of the dishes, which we nevertheless " most potently believe" to have answered the tempting description already given, we must rest satisfied with a participation of its mental qualities, and they were of no ordinary cast, judging from the number and pungercy of the toasts drunk on the occasion, for law, reason and wit appear to have been the order of the day.

Among the happiest of these, we remark the By his honour the Recorder .- Our Common Law

May it not fall beneath the great but blind strength of our Sampson.

By Mr. Sampson-The Recorder and the Common. Law, may he like Sampson, take the honey and leave the carcaee.

ORDINATION .- On Sunday morning last, an Ordination was held, by the Rev. M. B. Roche, N H. M. in the Commissioner's Hall, of Southwark. at which time Mr. ISAAC WORRELL, was set apart as a Priest and teaching minister of the New Jerusalem Church, with power to perform all Holy Offices of the Church, excepting that of ordaining other priests and ministers.

On Sunday afternoon, Divine Worship will be held in the Musical Fund Society's Hall, in Carpenter street, back of the Post Office, at which time a Sermon will be preached by the Rev. M. B. Roche, for the benefit of a School for the instruction of Poor Chlidren.

An attempt was made about ten days since, to nurder a young man named Edwin Keeler, near Montrose, (Penn.) of which the following are the particulars. Mr. Keeler on returning from Harford, whither he had been sent to receive a sum of money, was fired at by a villain who made his appearance by the way-side. The fire was from a pistol; the ball struck the clothes of the young man, and penetrated as far as the vest pocket, where it lodged-its progress being arrested by a large knife which was luckily there. The discharge of the pistol frightened the horse, and threw the rider off, when the desperado fell upon him with a knife, and attempted to stab him; but did not succeed in giving him a serious wound. It is highly probable that the villain was mistaken in the person, and that he did not discover his mistake till he came in close engagement, when he desisted from further violence, and made off in High-handed Robbery .- Rufus G. Emery, Esq. of Boston, left the City Hotel, N. York, on Thursday morning, on his way to Philadelphia, (travelling on horseback.) Having passed Newark, N. J. several miles, he was attacked on the high way, by three men, one of whom threatened his life with a pistol. They took him into the woods, tied his hands and feet all together, and robbed him of five hundred and twenty-five dollars. They let his horse run loose, and where about to make off.— Mr. E. begged that they would not leave him in that situation, to perish in the snow. They cut some bushes, to keep him above the snow, and said that some passengers would be along soon, who would release him. Mr. E. however, succeeded in extricating his hands and feet, and was soon afterwards taken up by the mail stage, in which he pursued his journey. He was on hi way to attend the Supreme Court at Washington and was also travelling for his health.

DRAMATIC.

Mr. Cooper is now engaged at the New-Yor Theatre-last evening he performed his favourit character, Virginius.

Mr. Pearman and Mrs. Holman, says the Bosto Palladium, commenced a short engagement at ou Theatre, on Wednesday evening, the 10th instone or two of the kingdoms of The character chosen for their debut, were Belino dec 13-tf and Rosalvina, in the Opera of the Devil's Bridge. Their reception (after a few words of satisfactory explanation from Mr. Kilner, the Acting Manager, relative to the previous engagement of Mr. Booth) was warm and flattering. Mr. P. performed the part of Belino with the case and grace of one accustomed to the stage, and gave the songs with considerable taste and skill, particularly those of 'Is there a heart," and "Fancy's Sketch," both of which were unanimously encored, and repeated with increased effect. Mrs. Holman received great applause, and a general encore, to her Song of Bright Sun, I adore thee.' Mrs. Fisher made her first appearance in Baltimore, at the New Theatre on Wednesday evening, as Lady Duberly, in the admirable comedy of the Heir at Law. Report speaks highly favorable of her, and she will no doubt be a valuable acquisition to the corps. Mr. Somerville also made his appearance there in the character of Zekiel Homepun. Mr. Fisher, from the Theatre Royal Drury Lane; Miss Fisher, and Mr. Drake are engaged, and will immediately appear.

A circus has been erected at Louisville, Ken, by Messrs. Pepin & Barnet.

Postscript.

On Thursday evening last the fast sailing packet ship London, capt. Allen, arrived at New-York from London: sailed from Cowes on the 12th No. vember. The most interesting news by this arrival we have given below. In a letter from an American gentleman in London, to the editor of the Com. mercial Advertiser, it is observed: " From every view therefore that I can take of the subject. I see no hope for the cause of rational freedom. Legitimacy has obtained a triumph, and the sleep of despotism will continue to impose its heavy chains on the people of Europe for a still longer period. England, in the mean time, is loosing her influence on the continent, the necessary consequence of the present state of affairs."

A Bayonne letter gives the following horrible statement relative to Riego: " Riego has been tried, and could not find any counsel to defend him, and it was necessary to provide him with one by drawing lots. His sentence is to be strangled and quar. tered, and it is supposed that this sentence will be carried into execution, as the king is not likely to [Another account says Riege had permission to attend the Court, but would not. The counsel assigned for him, spoke in his defence, and contended that he ought to be tried by a military com-

The last letters from Greece state, that the fleet of the Captain Pacha, has arrived in the Dardanelles, and gone into the Port of Constantinople. The above letters also stated, that the move. ments of the Janissaries, cause great alarm to the

The elegant ship Paris, captain Robertson, from New-York, for Havre, was driven ashore near Cherbourg, in the gale of the let of Novemberthe crew and 40 passengers all saved. The papers state, that near 30 sail of weasels were driven ashore on that part of the French coast.

The admiralty have it in contemplation to commission the discovery ships for another voyage to the Polar seas, by the way of Behrings Straits. whence they will sail eastward.

Letters from Cadiz, says the London Monitor. positively assert, that Ballasteros, Morillo, and Villa Campa, were bribed to betray their country

TO MATREMATICIANS. We have been favoured with the following Solution of the question which appeared in this paper of the 6th instant:

A had $29,41 3; B had $64,70 19, and C had $76,47 17.

QUESTION FOR SOCUTION. It is required to place 19 trees in such a manner as to make 10 rows and have 5 trees in each row.

PRICE CURRENT.

Bacon (per 1b.)	61-2 a 8 g	Hams, Jersey, &c.	0 a 10
Beef, mess.	12 3 13 3	Hops (per 16.)	38 a 40
Borrer, in kees, fper			10 a 11
* Cheese, Goshen		Pennsylvania	7 a 8
Corn Meal (bbl.)	2 50 5	Western	6 8 7
· Coffee, prime green,	22 a 28	Pork, mess, Wester	n 12,50
Flour, superfine	6.00	fersey 14	4 a 14,50
Rye			1,50 a 12
t Gin, Philad. & count	ry 35 5	Cargo 10	50 a 11
Grain, Corn, up count	ry 50 %	Seed, Clover 4.	25 a 4,78
- do. low do.	38 2 40 5	- Flax, clean	1,00
y do. white	35 2 37	- Timothy 2,	75 a 3,25
Wheat 1,20	0 a 1,25 &	Whiskey, Rye (gal.	33
		Apple	30 a 31
Oats	25 a 33 ¢	Tobacco, Virginia	10,00
- Bariey	55 a 60 $	Kentucky	6,50
	-		- 1

Marine Intelligence.

FOREIGN ARRIVALS. FOREIGN ARRIVALS.

Brig Ruth, Tear, Gibraltar, 35 days, wine, &cc.
Sch. Sophia, Hampton, Alvarado, 21, cochineal. &cc.
— Good Friends, Wheeler, Aux Cayes, 21, coffee.
P't ship Montezuma. Potts, Liverpool, 34, dry goods.
Brig Mary, Selby, Gibraltar, 37, ballast.
— Rolla, Rea, Matanzas, 18, sugars.
— Warrior, Burns, Rio Janeiro, 50, coffee & hides.
Schr. Molly, Cooper, Cane Haytien, 30, coffee.

Schr. Molly, Cooper, Cape Haytien. 30, coffee.

Ship Natchez, Cook, New-Orleans, 21, tobucco, &c.
— Georgia Packet, Bunce, Charleston, 7, cotton, &c.

Hamburg brig Minerva, Gallas, Hamburg, 60. mdze. Schr. Macdonough, Copeland, St. Thomas, 17, sugars.

19. Brig Farmers Fancy Payne, Leghorn, 80. silks, &c. Brig Rose, Pickle, Bordeaux, 35, wine and goods. CLEARED.

c. 13. Brig Mechanic, 15. Spanish brig Quartro Amigos, Lecubaiz, Schr. Herman, Bedford, Havana 16. Ship Jane, Ferguson.

Haleyon, Wooster,
Schr. Marin, Price,
17. Ship America, Eldridge, Colombian brig Meta. M Liverpo Gibralta Colombian brig Meta Myers, Brig Columbia, Singer, — James Lawrence, Green, Neuvitas Franklin, Brown, Schr. Mexican, Loring, New-Orleans St. Eustarie 18. Brig Commodore Porter, Shankland. - Mary, Merritt.
- David Maffit, Rowland, New-Orleans Mermaid, Painter, Mary Ann. Walker,
Ship Little Chernh, Saunders, Havana St. Thomas Laguira Schr. Eliza Barker, Gage, St. I homa

FOR THE HOLIDAYS. The Washington Museum,

- Pegasus, Stonemar

Indian Queen, Gibbs,

Aux Cayer St. Domingo Pensacola

CONTAINS 300 Wax Figures, 300 Paintings, 100 Engravings, and many natural curiosities, besides an ANA-TOMICAL APARTMENT, cootaining 20 natural preparations, and 12 Wax, 7 full portraits, 4 Venuses, many Statues, Paintings, Engravings, &c. with the late addition of MILLER'S Wax Venus: this Apartment 25 Cents. In addition to the above, the Camera will be exhibited every clear day; and at 8 o'clock every Evening the Company will be amused with Recitations and other amusements.

Admission to the Museum, 25 Cents. Children half price, dec. 20—2t

2 prizes		is	1200
PARTY TO STATE OF	2000	19	400
2	1500	15	3000
ALL AND THE REAL PROPERTY.	1000	15	400
. 6	200	15	120
12	100	18	120
16	. 50	is	80
4150	5	is	2078
4204 Prizes.	s in former classes.	Dolla	rs 47780

Og Thursday evening the 11th inst. by the Rev. Mr. Pat-roni, Mr. GEORGE H. BALL, to Miss MARY BALL, of this city. On Sunday On Sunday evening, by the Rev. Thomas J. Kitta, Mr ENRY ULRICK, to Miss ELIZA GERRISH, both of the Northern Liberties.
On Monday, the 8th inst. by the Rev. Dr. Ely, Mr. JO-SEPH D. RÖBINSON, to Miss ANN S. DENHAM, all of ony.

n Sunday evening, the 14th inst. by the Rev. Mr. HurMr. WILLIAM SMITH to Mrs. MARY CLARK, both of the Northern Liberties.

On Wednesday evening last, by the Rev. Mr. Potts, Mr. JOHN SEELEY, to Miss MARGARETTA ADAMS, daugh-On Thursday evening, by the Rev. Dr. Rogers, WILLIAM HENRY D'WOLF, Esq. of Bristol, R. L. to Miss SARAH ANN ROGERS, of this city.

DIED.

On the 12th inst. Mrs. SUSAN WALTER, aged 20, wife f Samuel Walter, and daughter of Mr. William Morgan. On the 13th inst. Mr. NATHAN PERRY, aged 27, former ly of this city, late merchant of Augusta, Georgia.
On Monday morning, the 18th inst. Mrs. ANN O'NEAL, in the 89th year of her age.
On Sunday morning, the 14th inst. after a lingering illness, SAMUEL BLAIR, aged 14.

On Tuesday evening, the 16th inst. in the 17th year his age, WILLIAM M'K!NLA DAVIS.

On the evening of the 15th inst. at his residence in Cohocksen Village, ISAAC HORNE, aged 50.
On the 17th inst. CATHARINE MARGARETTA BELL, aged 15, eldest daughter of William John Bell.
On the morning of the 18th inst. Mr. JOHN WARE, Sen. aged 72, long a respectable inhabitant of the N. Liberties.
On Thursday afternoon, at five o'clock, Miss CATHARINE.
H. BAILEY, daughter of Chester Bailey.
On the 19th inst. Mr. GEORGE MOUTEA, in the for-

On Friday morning, in the 28th year of his age, Mr. JOHN
I. MAHANY, brother of James A. Mahany, Esq.
On the 19th inst. after a few days illness, which she hore with fortitude, Mrs. ELIZABETH KEYSER, aged 85. On Friday morning at three o'clock, Mrs. MARY BROWN, n the 72d year of her age. On Thursday evening, the 18th inst. Mrs. MARY POTTS.

On Thursday evening, the 18th inst. Mrs. MARY POTTS. On the 19th inst. BENJAMIN ROBERTSHAW, Whitemith to Messrs. Brooks, Machine Makers.
On the 10th ult. at his residence, near Shrewsburg, Monouth county, (N. J.) JAMES MOTT, F.sq. aged 85. He was for many years Treasurer of the State, and subsequentrepresentative in Congress. the 8th inst. in Mannington, New-Jersey, Mrs. RACHEL Deaths during the past week.

TYLER, wife of Job Tyler, sen.

	ADULTS.	CHILD.	TOTAL.
In Philadelphia,	67	28	95
In New-York,	36	23	59
In Baltimore,	12	11	23

There were 20 deaths in this city, last week, the Natural Small Pox!

THEATRE.

PERFORMANCE EVERY EVENING.
Mr. Booth's Third Night. THIS EVENING, Dec. 20, 1823,

A New Way to Pay Old Debts. Mr. Booth Mr. Wallack Sir Giles Overreach, Wellborn. Justice Greedy. Mr. Jefferson

Mrs. Anderson Mrs. Wallack Margaret, Mrs. After which, a Comic Interlude. IS HE JEALOUS?

Or. A Peep into the Boudoir. Mr. Belmour, Mr. Wen Mrs. Belmour, Mrs. Wallack On Monday, KING LEAR—Lear, Mr. BOOTH, In consequence of the great success of Tom & Jerry, it will be repeated on Tuesday next.

Removal and Copartnership.

ESSE W. NEWPORT, having removed from No. 69, North Second street, and entered into Partnership with HN B. ELLISON, they offer for sale at the S.E. corner of Market and Second Streets, a fresh and well selected as-sortment of SEASONABLE DRY GOODS, laid in at low auction prices, consisting of Superfine London, middling and low priced Cloths and Cassimeres, of various colours, viz. blue, black, brown, olive, drab, green, citron and coronation blue, black, brown, olive, drao, kiech, committures, &c.

ALSO,

An assortment of Bath Coating, Habit and Pelisse Cloths, all of which will be sold by the piece or yard at reduced 12 mo, 20—3t

LAND AT PUBLIC SALE. WILL be Sold, at Public Sale, at the Merchants' Coffee House, on Tuesday next, the 23d day of December, at half past six o' lock, P. M. The following tracts of Land, in the County of Bedford, one tract is improved and the rest is mimproved.

No. 1. Containing 424 acres of good Land, situated in the Fournship of Londonderry, 10 miles from Bedford, and 5 miles from the Tarnpike.

No. 2. Containing 300 acres of good Land, situated in the Foundation of Bethel, 20 miles from Bedford, and about 7 miles

Township of Bethel, 20 miles from Bedford, and about 7 miles from the Turnpike. No. 3. Containing 200 acres of good Land, situated in the Township of Hopewell, and adjoining Yallow Creek, 15 miles from Bedford, and 3 miles from the Turapike. No. 4. Containing 402 acres of good Land, situated in the Township of Bethel, 20 miles this side of Bedford, and about 7 miles from the Tutnpike.

No. 5. Containing 50 acres of good Land, part improved, situated on the Yallow creek, in the Township of Hopewell, 15 miles from Bedford, and 3 miles from the Turnpike, the improvements consist of a Log House, and Log Stable, and about 20 acres of clear Land.

Terms at the time of sale. The taxes are all paid as Receipts can be shown for the same. For further particulars apply to

WEAVER & WILTBOHN,
Land agents, No. 149 Walnut street.
ISAAC BILLINGS, Auctioneer.

WANTED TO PURCHASE,

THE following works, written by some of the people called Quakers:

"Saul's Errand to Damascus," by George Fox.

"Great Misery Unfolded,"

"The Christian Quaker," by William Penn. (Octavo 1699.)

"Satan's Harbinger Encountered," by Caleb Puscy.

The whole works of the following persons, viz.

Edward Burrough, Francis Howgill, Isaac Pennington, and Richard Claridge.

A line addressed to "A.B." and left at the Office of the National Gazette will be attended to.

12 mo. 20—6t*

BAKER'S Exchange and Intelligence Office, FRANKLIN COURT.

Market, between Third and Fourth Streets. DROCURES Houses and parts, Boarders, Partners, Clerks, Housekeepers, Journeymen, Apprentices, Bound Chil-cn, Domestics, WET NURSES, &c. dren, Domestics. WET NURSES, &c.

FOR SALE, a Black Girl, 11 years old and 17 to serve—do, 11 and 7—do. 10 and 8—do. 16 and 5—do. 18 and 10, from the country—a Black Boy 16 and 5—do. 17 & 14—do. 21 & 7.

TO BIND, a number of white and coloured Boys and Girls of different ages.

PROPERTY to Sell or Let, entered gratis.

Families provided with Domestics, with good reco

ORGANS AND PIANO FORTES. THOMAS & JOHN LOUD, FROM LONDON.

No. 361, Market-St. between Ninth & Tentb-streets, No. 301, Market-St. between Ninth & Tenth-streets, RESPECTFULLY inform their friends and the public in general, that they have now finished, and for sale, an elegant assortment of Plano Fortes, consisting of Cabinet with Parisian Columns, and Square Plano Fortes, handsomely ornamented and of warranted workmaship. Also, a handsome Church or Chamber Organ, of five stops, and two Pedals, which they will sell on reasonable terms.

Old Plano Fortes taken in part payment, and their fair value allowed. Plano Fortes tuned and repaired.

On the 1st of January, NEXT Thursday week—Tickers in the 7th Class, New Series, Union Canal Lottery will be advanced from the present price o 7 Dollars, to 8 Dollars each, and Shares in proportion; and ON THE THERD OF JANUARY next, Saturday week, all the following prizes, amounting to the brilliant sum of 71.000 DOLLARS.

Will be distributed to adventurers in the short space of FIVE MINUTES! and the Cash paid for the same immediately after the drawing. PRATF & DAVIS respectfully invite their friends and the public, to come forward and secure some of the following handsome prizes, which they now the course of the following handsome prizes, where for sale, at Tickets 7 dollars | Quarters 1 75

Halves 3 50 | Eighths 87 1-2

Those who purchase a ticket, a share, or a package therein, will contribute something towards the promotion of the very important object for which these Letteries were granted, as well as be liable to receive a great and

UNION CANAL LOTTERY. SEVENTH CLASS-NEW SERIES. A. M'INTYRE, MANAGER.

Prize of 10,000 is 10,000 | 5,000 | 5,000 | 2,563 | 5,326 6 1,000 6,000 429 12 5.148
10 Prizes - 0,139 Rlanks - 14,190 Tickets - 70,950 Dollars.
Capital Prizes, as in former Glasses, for sale by

PRATT & DAVIS.

NO. 62, CHESNUT STREET. Where was sold and paid, the following handsome prizes former Classes:
mbination 9, 13, 27—Reg. 2591, a prize of 5000
bo. 3, 13, 27—Do. 996, do. 1000
bo. 4, 13, 30—Do. 1914, do. 1000
bo. 2, 13, 20—Do. 758, do. 400
les many of 100, 50, 25, &c. with many other

PUBLIC SALES AT AUCTION.

No. 73 Market street, a few doors above Second

In Wednesday and Saturday mornings, at nine o'clock pre-A large and valuable assortment of Fresh Imported DKY GOODS, in lots to suit purchasers.

Also, a general assortment of DOMESTIC GOODS,

COMLY & TEVIS, Auc'rs.

At the Commencement of the Year 1824, sufficient patronage is received to warrant it.) A WEEKLY MISCELLANY, ENTITLED

PROPOSALS FOR PUBLISHING.

THE GAZETTEER, Devoted to Religion, Science, Morality and News.

Edited by the Rev. A. Knecland. I N addition to the most interesting articles of the current News, the Gazetteer will be appropriated to Literary, Religious and Moral improvement. This paper, at least the Religious Department, will be considered a continuation of Religious Department, will be considered a continuation of the Philadelphia Universal Magazine and Christian Massenger, and will continue to be edited by the Rev. Abner Kneeland, who has for four years gratuitously devoted his time to the above service. The religious i hazacter of the work, therefore, being well known, it is hardly necessary to repeat its general object; which is to set forth the doctrine, and inculcate the truth of the Christian religion, as generally understood and believed by those who have had aside the traditions of men and adhere strictly to the word of God—to enforce the principles of pure and sound Morality. of God—to enforce the principles of pure and sound Morality, as the genuine and certain fruits of a correct knowledge of the character of our Heavenly Father—to teach our fellow eings that the Lord is good to all, and his tender mercie are over all his works—and thereby to inculcate that rational religion which consists in supreme love and gratitude to God, and universal benevolence and charity toward man,—we shall make no scruple in noticing the popular errors of the day, as they appear, both from the Pulpit and Press; while plain and undispuised truth shall be our main and white plain and undispulsed truth shall be our main and ultimate object. Such a work seems to be indispensably necessary, to guide the present, and particularly the rising generation in the path-way of virtue, religion and morality; and we cannot doubt but that it will meet with all due and eral encouragement.
The News Department will embrace a condensed view of he intelligence of the week, foreign and domestic,

TERMS.

Each Number of the Gazettess will contain eight large quarto pages, on fine white paper and handsome type.

To be published on every Wednesday hroughout the year, at Three Dollars per annum, payable half yearly in advance. Subscriptions received by the Editor. No. 31, South Second Street; and at the office of the Saturday Evening Post, No. 53, Market Street.

Dec. 20, -5t TERMS.

CHEAP FURS. &c.

W. G. CREASE, (No. 41, south Third-street,) being about declining the For hosiness offers for sale, at very reduced prices, all his stock of Fors, consisting of a great variety of Ladies' Coat Trinmings, ladies and children's Chinchilla and other kinds of Fur Caps—Gentiemen's and boys Seal Skin and Sable Caps, Fur Gloves and Socks, witable for the fall and wiver search. and boys Seal Skin and Sable Caps, Fur Gloves and Socks, suitable for the fall and winter seasons.

Also, a bandsome assortment of ladies' Black and Fancy Feathers, Military Feathers, &c. & .

The above will be sold in large or small quantities to accommodate purchasers, at the most reasonable prices.

Dec. 20—7t

SCIENTIFIC AMUSEMENTS, OR PRESENTS FOR

THE HOLIDAYS. JUST RECEIVED AND FOR SALE BY

S. POTTER & CO. BOOKSELLERS, Opposite the Post Office, Corsnut street The Traveller's Tour through the United States, a pleasing and interesting pastime, performed with a tetotum and tra-vellers, in which all the principal cities and towns are visit-ed, and the population made known.

The Traveller's Tour through Europe, performed in the ie manner as the above. The Traveller's Tour round the World, performed in like .

manner.

A series of Games, designed to convey, in an agreeable manner, the principal facts connected with the study of the Scriptures, Philosophy, Geography, Astronomy, Botany, &c., &c., performed with cards.

The Cabinet of Knowledge, opened, and its secrets disclos-rd, being a set of questions and answers in the Arts, Sci-ences, and Morality, altered from the English cards, with considerable additions.

Vernacular Cards, being a new and interesting game; on performing which, a knowledge of the prominent parts of the history, government, and commerce, of the United States, is necessarily acquired.

tates, is necessarily acquired.

Dissected Maps of the United States, Europe, Asia, Africa, nd the world.

Dissected Puzzles of various kinds, coloured and plain,

Moral Amusement performed with cards as puzzles.

Enigmatical Cards for discovering a persons age.

Alphabetical Dice, and the following interesting

JUVENILE BOOKS.

Scenes in Europe for tarry at home travelles. Polacenes, exhibited in voyages to the northern regions, em

Taylor's Curious discouries, or, the Laymology Curious discouries, or, the Laymology Curious descenties, or, the Laymology Curious emarkable old sayings, proverbs and singular customs.

Steele's Religious Tradesman, I vol. 18 mo.

A Present for an Approntice, with Rules for his curious, Rural Scenes, or a Prep into the Country, I vol 19 up. Rational Dame, or Hints towards supplying pri Conversations of Emily, abridged from the French wal. True Stories, by the author of "Lessons for young per-

Dairyman's Daughter, an authentic and interesting narative, 1 vol. 18 mo. Hieroglyphic Bible, for the amusement and instruction of

Harry and Lucy, by Maria Edgeworth, 1 vol. 8 mo. Pictures of Euglish History, in miniature, with desc Lessons for children, by Mrs. Barbauid and Maria Edge worth, with coloured engravings.

Costumes of Different Nations, in miniature, with numerous engravings.

Miniature History of the Bible, with engravings, with many others of like character not here enumerated.

Catechisms of the Protestant Episcopal Church, by Bishops

Catechiams of the Protestant Episcopal Caurch, by Bishops Mann and Hobart, as also without Illustrations.

Irving's Catechiams of Chemistry, Autonomy, Botany, Grecian, Roman, and Jewish Antiquities, Universal Hilberty Classical Biography, Mythology, Roman, Grecian, and English History, with engraved illustrations.

Mayor's Catechism of Geography, General Mucwledge, Universal Kistory, Animated Nature, Botany, Health, and of the Bible

Stories on the Catechism, by Mrs. Sherwood, 2 vol. 12 mo. Henry Milner, a Boy nowof this world, by Mrs. Sherwood, Packet Bibles, Testaments and Prayer Books, in plain and fancy bindings.

Packer bibles, ancy bindings.

Watts', Rippon's Livingston's and Dwight's

Psalms and Hynsis, and many other science suited to the approaching season, all of which will be sold at reduced
Dec 20, 1823.—2t

FOR SALE OR BARTER,

NE Hundred and twenzy acres of Land, one third of which is Woodland, in Colerain Township, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, about 50 miles from the City, on which there is a comfortable Dwelling House, a new Stone Barn, 55 by 35 feet, and a stone Spring House near the dwelling; besides a young Orchard, just beginning to bear. The land is divided in small lots, and under good feace. Terms 25 dollars per acre. Apply at No. 138 South Fifth street, to STEPHEN STURGES.

SAFE BETTING.

IN this age of Berring an improvement on the old plan must be acceptable. One is now before the Public, which, for its safety, and the brilliancy of its results, is without a parallel. The only wonder is that all the betting community do not "Snap at it like a cock at a gooseberry." The knowing ones, however, are getting fast into its spirit, and before many days pass away, it is supposed that the whole that can be accommodated will be practical converts to this improved plan. A little recent adventure may throw some light on the matter. Save Dick to Tom. 5 Proclucky been!

Says Dick to Tom, "Pve lucky been!

"How cheering the reflection!
"It cannot be so sad a sin
To bet on the election. "But be it said, by wise or fools,

Sincerely or deriding,
"The hundred round I've won on Shulze
"Will soften conscience' chiding"

"A hundred won!" cried Tom to Dick;
"'T's not a wo drous choosing.
"Since you, that palrry sum to nick,
"Ran risk as much of losing.

" But mine's a plan of wiser mould :-"I've risk'd a very triffe.
"To make my coffers groan with gold,

" And every sorrow stifle "No morals have I sacrific'd:
"My conscience safe and sound is:
"No law have brok'n, by mortal pris'd.—
My happiness profound is.

"At DECKER's shop, I bought a prize.
"Dost stare?——It can't be wonder'd
"That I, with thousands, care despise,
"When you do with a hundred." Now, instead of risking your fifties against fifties, and hondreds against hundreds by which only an equal stake can be won. (and may be lost!) who will hesitate to adopt the method of happy Tom? The matter is too plain for argument. Stake seven dollars in the hands of P. I. DECKER, and he will stake TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS against it! in the shape of a ticket in the

UNION CANAL LOTTERY.

Seventh class—new series.

But be speedy, or you may lose the happy chance. He has a choice number of tickets on hand, which, like Will Waddle, are fast "going away." He will accommodate with half, quarter, or eighth parts of tickets; on the same rates, all those who wish to bet very lightly. Apply at

P. I. DECKER'S OFFICE,

N. W. corner of Chesnut & Third streets.

THE OLIO.

" VARIETT'S THE VERY SPICE OF LIFE, THAT GIVES IT ALL ITS FLAVOUR."

- 42 0 MARCH TO THE BATTLE FIELD." March to the Buttle Field,

The foe is now before us, Each heart is Freedom's shield, And Heaven is smiling o'er us ! The woes and pains, The galling chains That kept our spirits under, In proud disdain We've broke again, And tore each link asunder, March to the battle field, The foe is now before us, Each heart is Freedom's shield,

And Heaven is smiling o'er us. Who for his Country brave Would fly from her invader ? Who his base life to save Would traitor like degrade her ! Our hallowed Cause, Our home and Laws, Gainst tyrant power sustaining. We'll gain a crown, Of bright renown,

Or die-our rights maintaining ! March to the battle field, The foe is now before us, Each heart is freedom's shield, And Heaven is smiling o'er'us. Land of The mopyle, (Endear'd by classic story) What spirit calls on thee? Leonidas and glory. Unconquer'd Spain, Will wave again Her sword-oppression spurning. While freedom's light, (A beacon bright) Around her soil is burning, March to the battle field, The foe is now before us, Each heart is freedom's shield. And Heaven is smiling o'er us!

Marriage is the mother of the world, and preserves kingdoms and fills cities, churches, and even heaven itself .- Celibacy, like the fly in the heart of an apple, dwells in a perpetual sweetness; but sits alone, and is confined, and dies in singularity; but marriage, like the useful bee, builds a house and gathers sweetness from every flower; publics, and sends out colonies and fills the world with delicacies; and obeys their king, keeps order, and exercises many virtues. and promotes the interests of mankind; and is that state of things for which God hath designed the present constitution of the world. Marriage bath in it the labors of love, and the delicacies of friendship; the blessings of society and the union of hands and hearts. It hath in it less of beauty. but more of safety than a single life; it is more merry and more sad; it is fuller of lovs and fuller of sorrows; it lies under more burdens, but it is supported by all the strength of love and charity; and these burdens are delightful .- Jeremy Taylor.

VIOLENT TYPHON.

The autumnal equiportic! gale," says Dolnett, in his voyage to the South Atlantic, "came on us the 23d of March, and held upwards of four days, with frequent claps of thunder, accompanied by lightning, hail, and rain. It blew as hard as I ever remember, and, for several hours, we could not venture to show any sail. At the same time a whirlwind, or typhon, arose to windward, from whence, in one of the squalls, two balls of fire, about the size of cricketballs, fell on board. One of them struck the anchor, which was housed on the forecastle, and, bursting into particles, struck there are nine or ten small children.' the chief mate and one of the seaman, who fell down in excruciating tortures. On examining them, several holes appeared to have been burned in their clothes, which were of flannel; and in various parts of their bodies there were small wounds, as if made with a hot iron, of the size of a sixpenny piece. I immediately ordered some of the crew to perform the operation of the Otaheiteans, called roro mee, which consists in grasping the fleshy parts of the body, legs and arms, and working it with the fingers. This caused a considerable abatement of their pains, but several days elapsed before they were perfectly recovered. The other ball struck the funnel of the caboose, made an explosion equal to that of a swivel gun, and burnt several holes in the mizen-stay-sail, which were handed .-At the height of it the barometer was 28° The alarm which we may be supposed to have experienced during the whirlwind was not allayed by the noise of the birds, who not considering the ship to be a place of safety, as is the case in common gales, appeared, by the violence of their shrieks and the irregularity of their flight, to be sensible of their dangers, for as the squall approached them, numbers plunged into the sea, to avoid it; while those who could not escape its influence were whirled in a spiral fortunately reached us only within two cables' length of each beam, and so passed ahead of the ship to the north. From our first seeing, to our losing sight of it, was about half an hour. In this gale, I lost the greatest part of my stock, together with all the vegetables that hung at the stern of the ship."

RICHARDSON THE FIRE EATER. From Evelyn's Diary.

" Oct. 8, 1672 .- I took leave of my Lady Sunderland, who was going to Paris to my Lord, now ambassador there. She made me stay dinner at Leicester-house, and afterwards sent for Richardson, the famous fire eater. He before us devoured brimstone on glowing coals, chewing and swallowing them. He melted a beere-glasse, and eat it quite up; then taking a live coal on his tongue, he put on it a raw oyster; the coal was blown on with the bellows till it flam'd and sparkled in his mouth, and so remain'd till the oyster gap'd and was quite boil'd; then he melted pitch and wax with sulphur, which he drank down as it flam'd. I saw it flaming in his mouth a good while.

There are some instances of men carrying the imaginative faculty to a great height. Tulpius mentions a rainter, who verily believed that all the bones of his body were so soft and flexible, that they might easily be crushed together, or folded one within another, like pieces of pliable wax.

A young man had a strong imagination that he was dead, and earnestly begged his friends to bury him. They consented by the advice of the physician. He was laid upon a bier, and carried upon the shoulders of men to church; when some pleasant fellows, up to the business, met the procession, and enquired who it was; they answered .-"And a very good job it is," said one of them, " for the world is well rid of a very bad and vicious character, which the gallows must have had in due course." The young man, now lying dead, hearing this, popped his head up, and said they ought to be ashamed of themselves in thus traducing his fair fame, and if he was alive, he would thrash them for their insolence. But they proceeding to utter the most disgraceful and reproachful language, dead flesh and blood could no ionger bear it; up he jumps, they run, he after them, until he fell down quite exhausted. He was put to bed; the violent exertion he had gone through promoted perspiration, and he got well.

The Restoration of Charles II .- There is a tra dition in Scotland, that a dram of brandy produced the restoration of Charles II. The messenger from the Parliament of England had brought letters to Monk whilst he remained at Edinburgh .-This messenger was also interested with despatch. es to the Governor of Edinburgh Castle-a circumstance which he mentioned to one of Gen. Monk's servants, while on his journey. The man (a sergeant) saw something unusual in this, and prevailed upon his fellow traveller to drink a dram of brandy with him at a neighboring ale-house, where the messenger became ultimately so drunk, that the sergeant was enabled to take the papers from his custody without detection. This done, he posted to his General with the packet, who, on perusing its contents, found an order for his arrest and detention in the Castle. Policy and resentment at once directed the eyes of Monk to Charles Stewart, and his restoration succeeded .-"What great events from trifling causes spring."

When Moliere, the comic poet, died, the Arch bishop of Paris would not let his body be buried in consecrated ground. The King, Louis XIV. being informed of this, sent for the Archbishop, and expostulated with him about it; but finding the prelate inflexibly obstinate, his Majesty asked how many feet deep the consecrated ground reached? This question coming by surprise, the Archbishop replied, "About eight." "Well," enswered the King, "I find there's no getting the better of your scruples; therefore let his grave be dug twelve feet deep, that's four below your consecrated and labours and unites into societies and re- ground, and let him be buried there" In England this humourous, expedient would not have served, for the soil even to the centre belongs to the owner of its surface.

> Dr. Franklin in his Journal says, "I went at noon to bathe at Martin's salt water hot bath at Southampton, and floating on my back, fell asleep, and slept near an hour by my watch, without sink. ing or turning! A thing I never did before, and should hardly have thought it possible. Water is the easiest bed that can be.

> Mr. Curran, cross examining a tailor-Upon your oath, sir, where did this conversation happen? In the back parlour of my shop, my cutting toom.-What were you then about yourself?

> marked to the doctor that he believed it was the second or third he owed him for. Never mind (says the doctor) I keep a running account with O, very well then, (replies the wag, whose standing as a punster is well known in Europe and America) if that be the case, I shan't hurry my. self to overtake it, and cooly pocketed his money

I frequently see advertisements for board, where there are no children." If I had the right kind of talents, I should like to laugh at such young men, for young I will suppose them to be. think if I were to advertise for board, a new thing would be seen under the sun. It should be thus, "Board wanted in a genteel family, where

In France, Don Car os Godoy, prince of peace, the favorite and prime minister of Charles 4th of Spain, lately died. Since the days of Woolsey, no individual ever experienced greater vicissitudes of fortune. From a private in the royal guards, he rose to the most eminent rank and highest office, and from a state of penury accumulated a fortune estimated at fifteen millions of dollars. His merino flock amounted to 80,000. When the Spanish royal family was kidnapped by Bonaparte in 1808, at Bayonne, Godoy was accused by Ferdinand as having betrayed him to the Corsican; but at his death he left the remains of his fortune, amounting to about seven millions of dollars, to Ferdinand the Seventh.

Lines worked on a Hearth-rug. Pair one, take heed how you advance, Nor tempt your own undoing : If you're too forward-fearful chance! A spark may prove your ruin.

Cheese.-Red pepper, so called, is a complete antidote against flies impregnating cheese so as to produce maggots. Take one and put it into a delicate piece of linen, moisten it with a little fresh butter, and rub your cheese frequently. It not only gives a very fine colour to your cheese, but it is so pungent that the fly will not touch it.

Rheumatism .- An alleged specific cure for the rheumatism has been communicated by a gentleman from the Coast of Guinea, which is, to rub the parts affected with a mixture of Cayenne pepper and strong spirits. The rubbing must be continued some time, and repeated till the cure is efmanner out of sight in an instant. Hevery fected, Probably the American red pepper or the India black pepper might answer, when the other is not attainable.

" FREE A D EASY."

BURNS TAVERN, BANK-STREET

BURNS TAVERN, BANK-STREET.

"Care to our coffin adds a nail no doubt, Whilst merry laughter nimbly draws one out."

The Subscriber respectfully informs his Friends and the Public, that his "Free and Easy" is open every Saturday and Monday evening. He also with pleasure announces to those visitors who have so kindly supported him for the past seasons, that he has improved his upper Room, and his lower Room is now decorated by the picturesque pencilling of Mr. Samuel Anness, viz. The superb Grotto Scene. "the Bath of Beauty." He respectfully assures the Public that nothing on his part shallbe wanting to render his guests comfortable. To prevent intrusion from Boys, Gentlemen will receive Tickets at the Bar for 6 1-4 Cents, payable in Refreshments. Relishes always ready—Hot Whisky Punch, &c, &c. A select Band of Music. This evening Mr. F. Eberle will will give several Solos on the Kent Bugle.

NM. MUIRHEAD.

FOR SALE,

A LARGE Bulk Window, Sash Door and Frame-Also, 100 Loads of the first quality RED BANK SAND. Ap-ply at NICHAEL PEPPER'S, No. 232, Catharine street, between Fourth and Fifth streets' N. B. A complete ser of Jack-screws to him.

MALT.

THE Consumers of the above Article are solicited to call at the Subscriber's MALT HOUSE, Prune Street, below Walnut, where they will be supplied with MALT of the best quality, on the most reasonable terms.

N. B. Matt made for Brewers at 15 Cents per bushel. nov. 1-131" ABRAHAM CALLARD. CHEAP CARPETING.

fore offers for sale at very reduced prices, any part of his stock of Carpeting. He has on hand, Venetian, from half a yard to one yard, Kikkerminster, Ingrain, Scotch and American of good patterns, with about 50 pieces of Rag Carpeting. Also, an assortment of Straw Matting. All of the above will be sold on the best terms. Apply to JESSE SHARPLESS,

TOOTH ACHE

Cured Instantaneously and without Pain, even where all the known applications have failed to afford relief. S. MILFORD, Dentist, from London, A SSURES those who may be disposed to try his remedy, that he will make a perfect cure, and enable the patient to chew with the teeth that were affected, even though the complaint had been aggravated by bad treatment. In less than forty-eight hours after the pain is cared, Mr. M. can plug the tooth with the greatest ease to the patient. Black and yellow teeth cleaned and brought to their original colour, and prevented from decaying, if it has commenced. He also separates and makes the teeth even, and takes away the decayed parts. Artificial Teeth neatly fixed and Stumps and Teeth extracted.

MILFORD'S TOOTH POWDER. This highly approved d valuable Powder, is excelled by none in use; it not only wes the Teeth an elegant polish but preserves and hardens ne gums.-Price 25 cents.

Milford's ANODINE DROPS, for the cure of Tooth Ache Price 30 cents. LOTIONS, for the cure of Scorbutic Gums, and to fasten the teeth, and restore the flesh when lost—Price 50 cents. These medicine are warranted efficacious and at the same time innocent for sale by S. MILFORD, No. 163, South Fifth, near Spruce street.

CLOTHING.

THE Subscribers have received by the late arrivals from England and elsewhere, an elegant assortment of the superfine CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, VESTINGS, FA-SHIONABLE STRIPES, &c. far the present and coming season.

SILVEIRA & BROWN. Drapers & Tailors, No. 83, South Second street.

TO MERCHANTS AND OTHERS. JONES & HARRISON, Dyers and Scourers. No. 102 1-2 ARCH STREET, four doors above Fifth, beg leav to inform their friends and the public in general, that they still continue to Dye, Restore, and Refold, English, India, French, and Iralian Goods, of every description; and they hope, by strict attention, to give general satisfaction.

. Merino Shawls cleaned, so as to preserve the colors. Gentlemens' Clothes, wet or dty scoured, and pressed on improved principles. Ladies' Coats, Dresses, Shawls, &c. Dyed to any pattern, or cleaned. S. B. Articles for Mourning at the shortest notice. ing at the shortest notice.

NEW BOOKS

JUST received, and for sule at about half the customary prices, at No. 71 Market street, near Second street, viz. Spectator, in octavo and 18mo. British Edoquence, Chapman's Select Speeches, Comly's Grammar, Waverly Novels, complete sets; separate vols of do bound and in boards, Las Casas's Journal, Comly's Spelling Books, Percy Ancedotes, No Fiction, Brownie of Bodshenk, Lights and Shadows of Section Life Waver and Prayers. Scottish Life, Walter Scott's works, Book of Common Prayer Johnson's Lives of the Poets, Life of Washington, English Reader, Silliman's Travels, Addison's works, wowper's Poems, Arabian Nights, Elegant Extracts, Blair's Lectures, History of Pennsylvania, Hermit in London, Family Tour, Scientific Dialogues, Treasure of Health, Salmagundi, Original Poems, Gay's Fables, Junua's Letters, Moore's Melodies, Barlow's Poems, Lady of the Lake, with a variety of

BALM OF COLUMBIA,

An Important recent Chemical Discovery. THE Ladies and Gentlemen of this city and elsewhere, are respectfully informed, that John Oldridge has fortunately discovered, by the power of Chemistry, the granddesideratum of preventing Hairfrom falling off, in Forty-Eight Hours from its first application. This Balm, will, most absolutely, in the course of a short time, make the Hair grow Healthy and Thick, and also restores it again if the part is totally hald. Thick, and also restores it again if the part is totally bald; likewise makes whiskers and heards grow rapidly. It also cures the Dandruff. J. O. is well aware that many fraudulent and deceptive oils, &cc. have been imposed on the public, and therefore prejudice will be severe against his discovery, until trial shall convince his patrons that such a thing exists in nature as a certain preventative against the loss of Hair.

No danger need be apprehended to the human system by the application of this capillary restorative. The public may rest assured that it helps nature, and is perfectly harmless.

It has proved its ability to restore a full head of hair on those who were bald at 20 years of age, in the short time of 13 works. On those who were bald at 20 years of age, in the short time of 13 makes. weeks. On those who were older it was longer in effecting ting room.—What were you then about yourself?
—Walking about.—Aye, just taking a stroll in your cabbage garden!

Bon Mot.—A medical gentleman handing the facetious Mr. S—r a letter, the other day, the wit took out his purse to pay the postage, and remarked to the doctor that he believed it was the

No. 55 1-2, South Front street, and No. 11, North Fourth street Philadelphia. aug. 23-tf

JACKSON FREE AND EASY. CHALKLEY BAKER, sign of General Jackson, in Race near Eighth street, thankful for the encouragement he received during the last season, has the pleasure of in-forming his friends and those who are disposed to spend an evening in social glee and harmony, that his FREE AND FASY is now opened, and will be continued every saturday Evening during the season. C. B. has engaged Mr. Pohlman, who with the Bolian Harp will do all in his power to strike up strains which will be pleasing to Anna-teurs of good Singing, Harmony and Conviviality.

Ye sons of social mirth and glee. My Free and Easy come and see; Good music here you'll always find, And liquors of the best in kind— Good Whiskey Punch, with Cider sweet, Sheep Tongnes, Tripe and Sonc'd Pigs Feet. Come tune your pipes, the Cymbals ting, And merrily, merrily let us sing;
'Tis folly longer to delay,
Come then and drive dull care away.

nov. 29—3t

CAUTION. THE public are cautioned to beware of the deception practised by the Tin Fedlars, who hawk about articles of inferior quality, and pass them off as good ware, and frequently asserting, they had them made at the cellar, corner of Third and Market street, under the shoe sterc—and when brought to the cellar the fraud is detected, as no such goods were manufactured there.

were manufactured there.

To prevent the citizens from being imposed on, the subscriber respectfully states, that he never employs or sells. Tin Ware to any pedlars, nor do any of my men, in my manufactory, they being expressly forbid by me to have any dealing exits. J. BUTTERWORTH.

Tin and Sheet Iron Ware Manufacturer No. 355 North Third street, and Cellar, corner of Third and Market st.
south side, under the shoe store; where he keeps for sale
SHEET IRON STOVES, for burning Lehigh or Schuylkill Coal, where one may be seen burning.

Nov. 22-6t

CHEAP TRAVELLING. Only $2,50 for a pasage to NEW-YORK, in the Old Columbian Line and only 30 miles land carriage, via Bordentown and Amboy. Leaves upper. or north side Market street wharf every day (Saturdays and Sundays excepted) at 12 o'clock (noon) 2nd on Sunday at 7 o'clock, A. M. and arrive at New-York by steam boat Wm. Penn, by 9 o'clock next morning. Fare through only 2,50.

JOHN BOWMAN, Jr. Agent. N. B.—For Seats apply to the old established Coach and Steam Boat Office, No. 13, Market Street, or of the Captain on board the boat.

Mark this, Insolvents.

THOSE who intend making application for the benefit of the existing Insolvent laws, are informed, that they can have their retitions carefully and legally executed for Two Bollars. Likewise, all other writings drawn or engrossed on similar low terms, at No. 7, North Sixth Street few doors above Market Street. nov. 29-tf

JOHN M'CLOUD, HATTER, NO. 46, Market street, (next door to the Washington Museum, returns his thanks to his friends and the public, for their past liberal encouragement, and respectfully acquaints them, that he continues to manufacture HATS of the best materials, at very reduced prices. He trusts that his unremitted efforts to satisfy his oct, 4-tf

CHARLES STEVENSON, No. 113, South Second street, opposite the Custom-House, Goldsmith and Jeweller, manufactures retail, at wholesale prices. Clocks and Watches cleaned and repaired for one half the usual charges.

may 31-tf

JUST RECEIVED,

DER late arrivals and for sale by the subscriber, Wholesale and Retail—Ladies' Morocco Work Boxes, Tunbridge do. do. Japan Dressing Cases, Ladies' Morocco Thread Cases, handsomely gilt, Card Cases, Mennorandum Books, Ladies & Gentlemen's Pocket, Books, wallets and note cases, in great variety. Rodger's fine Penknives, Graves' do. Razors, Pradile's French do. Fine and common Scissors. Silver Pencil Cases, Tooth Picks and Twesers. Chess and Cribbage Boards. Coloured Woodstock Gloves. White do do with elastic springs. Brushes and Combs of every description. Turkey Otto Roacs. Farina's genuine Cologue Water. Lavender Water. Honey Water. Milk Roses. Extract Roses, Fine Soans, viz: Vegetable, Palm, Violet, Rose. Sultans. &c. &c. With a general assortment of Perfumery and Fancy Goods.

THOMAS S. ANNERS, sept. 13—tf. No. 141 Chesm

ENGRAVING I No. 128, Locust-street, Philadelphia. aug 23—if

UNION CANAL LOTTERY. SEVENTH CLASS-NEW SERIES. To be drawn the 3d January, 1824. Highest prize, 10,000 dollars. 5000 5326 2663 5051 Prizes 9139 Blanks.

14,190 Tickets, at 6 Dollars. TICKETS AND SHARES FOR SALE AT

P. I. DECKER'S OFFICE N. W. corner of Chesnut & Third streets.

GOLDEN MOMENTS.

TAREE weeks from this day, and one of the most brillian Drawings that was ever witnessed in this city, will take place at the Masonic Hall-circulating in FIVE MINUTES, Prizes amounting to upwards of

70.000 DOLLARS.

For the whole of which, the grand desideratum, the CASH, will be instantly advanced. As such a golden Harvest may not offer itself again in this city, it had best be remembered. The approaching New Year should be begun well. Chances are still selling as follows:—Whole Tickets, 7 dolls.—Halves. 2,50—Quarters, 1,75—Eighths, 87 cents. But will advance to the rate of EIGHT DOLLARS on New-Year's day. in, will contribute son ething towards the promotion of the very important object for which these lotteries were granted, as well as be liable to receive a great and very acceptable reward.

Should it be more agreeable to an adventurer to pay only the difference between the price of a package and the sun that a package must necessarily draw, than to advance or pay the price of a package it will be equally agreeable to the subscriber; and in such a ease, the amount to be paid on

Whole Tickets is$74 40 Quarter do......18 60 Eighth do...... 30 Which will entitle the purchaser to the full amount drawn by the said package, over and above the amount due there-on, excepting the '5 per cent, deducted by the State.

CAPITAL PRIZES, as in former Classes, for sale at FORTUNE'S HOME, P. Canfield's Pennsylvania State Lottery Office, No. 127 Chesnut street, nearly opposite and between the Post Office, and the United States' Bank. Where have recently been sold 2 prizes of 5000 dollars-1 of 20,000—1 of 15,000—1 of 10,000—1 of 7,500——1 of 5,000—of 2,500——ond in immense number of 1000. 500, &c.; which must be convincing proof that the residence of the Goddens, For drawn. Orders post paid thankfully received and promptly attended to Clubs dealt with on the most facturable terms. The original of all Share Tickets, vold at the above office, will be deposited in the hands of the Manager for the security of the Philadelphia Coat Scouring ESTABLISHMENT.

TAILOR & CLOTHES DRESSER, No. 109. Chesnut Street, (directly opposite the Post Office.) respectfully informs his Friends and the Citizens of Philadelphia, that he has opened a Coat Dressing Establishment at the above stand, where he continues the Dressing of Coats, Pantaloons, &c. Gentlemen can be accommodated in the best possible manner, and with properailty. His method of dressing of the pantaloons of the pantaloons of the coastilla manner, and with properailty. His method of dressing the pantaloons of the pa cossible manner, and with punctuality. His method of dres kinds of stains, grease spots, paint, tar. Rec. and is on quite a different plan from that of the dyers. A. COX, Jun. engages to put on new Buttons, Collars, Cuffs, and Sleeve Linings, an' alter old clothes to the newest fashions, on the most reasonable terms. All kinds of Gentlemen's Westing Appare DVSD.

Wearing Appare DYED on the most reasonable terms.

N. B.-A. COX, Iun assures the citizens of Philadelphia, that the nature of the composition which he uses, is such. as effectually to prevent any injury whatever being received from the moths; this will be an inducement to gentlemen wishing to put by their clothes for the season. july 25-6m

CONRAD AXE, COMB MANUFACTURER, No. 24, North Third street, below Race, respectfully informs his friends and the public that he has a large and elegant assortment of TORTOISE SHELL COMBS. IVORY COMBS, MOCK do. POCKET do. do. do.

DRESSING do, SIDE do,
Which he will sell for cash or approved paper, far cheaper than they can be imported, and will warrant them superior in finish to those which are imported.
To the Ladies of Philadelphia, in particular, he tenders his sincere acknowledgments for past tayours, and hopes, by attention, to secure a continuance of their patronage. He also wishes to inform them that he repairs old Comba, or cements them so as to look as well as new.

J. S. RUSSELL, No. 68, Chesnut street,

Has for sale a general and handsome assortment of BRASS, BRONZED & JAPANNED

LAMPS, adapted to every purpose for which light is required, together with LAMP Glasses and Wicks of all descriptions, and every article connected with the use of Oil. nov 1-tf

BIRDS FOR SALE.

A LARGE and elegant assortment of Canary Birds, Mocking Birds, and Red Birds, for sale at No. 173, Cherry street, the first house above Eighth street.—Also, a large collection of Fancy Pidgeons.

LAND OFFICE,

NO. 7, North Sixth, five doors above Market-street—east side.—For the purchase and sale of Real Estate. Instruments of Writing carefully drawn, Money procured on security, Ground-rents, Mortgages, Stocks, Bills of Exchange, Bonds, and Promissory Notes bought and sold; Intricate accounts adjusted: Mechanic's claims, Bills of Sale, Ball Bonds, and Insolvent Debtors' Petitions correctly drawn; Books Posted, Partnership concerns settled, Accounts of Executors, Administrators, Assignees, &c. adjusted.

N. B. A register of Real Estate is kept in which are inserted a variety of property for sale or exchange.

Several sums of Money to loan on Mortgage, on property in the city or county.

CHARLES P. LISLE, nev 15—3m

Scrivener and Agent. in the city or county.
nev 15-3m Scrivener and Agent.

Drawing and Painting Academy, No. 46, South Sixth Street.

MR. PERSICO, respectfully informs his patrons and the friends of the Fine Arts, that he continues to teach Drawing and Painting to classes now formed, to which can be added a few more pupils. Mr. Persico flatters himself, that having studied in the public Academies of Rome and Naples, he is qualified to teach Drawing and Painting in the best style. An Evening class is now forming for young Gentlewell. Gentlemen. Specimens of Mr. Persico's Drawing and Painting, as well as the progress of his pupils, may be seen at the Academy, No. 46, South Sixth street. Mr. P. takes lik-nesses in Miniature and Crayons.

CABINET WARE ROOMS.

FOR SALE.

Several first rate Eight Day CLOCKS, will be sold low, and warranted. Apply at No. 68, Arch Street, between Second and Third Streets.

Several first rate Eight Day CLOCKS, will be sold pair royal Chases; 1 pair media pair sold low for cash. Apply at No. 111-45

Notice is hereby Given the county of Burington, and state of the county of Burington, and state of this day made an assignment to the School and this day made an assignment to the School all his Creditors; who are hereby requested to claims according to law.

ARRAHAM

ABRAHAM LIPPINO 11 mo. 25th, 1823.

BOARDING A FEW respectable Gentle with good Boarding, en corner of Chesnut and Fifth Strandious and pleasant.

CHEAP BOOKS DUTTERWORTH'S Concordance Process and Parts of Church, &c. for sale at Half Price, for Cash dec. 6—4t

MAVIGATION Lunar Observations, and the Use of SEXTANT AND QUADRAYT.

Fors, ascertaining the Le stude by Chese rating them with actual practice, the second

THOMAS ARNOLD, No. 295. South Francisco T. A. feels grateful for the liberal paper T. A. regis graterin for the liberal patrongels perienced, and solicits a continuation of the particular of the particular patrongels. He confidently trusts, that thir lavigator, at sea, twenty of which Lunar Observations, have rendered him in teach the above. To such persons a entire attend during the day, attention will

QUILL MANUFACTORY REYMBORG & HAGEDORN, No. 41 Conference of Clarified Vellow and White Manufactured of Clarified Vellow and White Manufactured of the Conference of Clarified Vellow and White Manufactured of the Conference of the dollars 50 cents to 25 dollars the thousand

Tobacco, Snuff and San MANUFACTORY

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following vale and retail ou the most reasonable to Spanish half Spanish and American Segate of the control of the control

ities-Plag Tobacco, in rolls Prime Cavendish, Fine Cut Chewin Sweet Scented Smoking TOBACCO 2d qual, in kegs, bladders, and buttles-pee Snuff—Pipes in boxes—German Spanish, St. Domingo and America Spanish, St. Domingo and American Leaf Toler

ANDREW ANDERSON No 98, North Second by

To Parents and Guardians of You

OF BOTH SEXES. A FTER a residence of nearly 22 years more meaning the first a residence of Philadelphia, during which tool experienced the high gratification of imparing m a some monsands of most respectable pupils of but as some thousands of most respectable pupils of balles again present myself to your motice as a profine teacher of Drawing and Painting.

By persons moving in the first circles of strict, enlightened and liberal of every class, the Fig. an invortance withrespect to stillty and accomplishes be appreciated by every thinking person.

I am dappy in stating the result of an unremiting and attention to my profession, enhancing maintaining first principles of the Art, which has enabled new as system infinitely more perfect, more sunds, all suited to the capacities of youth than any labous the progress of my pupils will test this section. the progress of my pupils will test this asserted having in less than three months, produced grein rior to the productions of two years men the old my I am anxious to extend my instructions upon the oid we ral terms, I have established these last three years one fourth of the usual charge; and I rely with cost on the support of an enlightened and discerning public

No. 145, Pine street, above Dr. Mellen's Cough Drops, The most valuable Medicine ever prep

COUGHS AND CONSUMPTIONS. HIS new and heating Balaam bide fair to rinder Medicine hereinfore discovered, for Caugh, and plaints of the unge, leading to Canamptian, and manded Consumptions have failly been used by many while erprizing success. If certificates from person of that surprizing success. It certificates from person of his prespectationity, or the great and increasing denoish in may be called to of of their good effects, it is good to by a case of Colds. Coughs, points the ideal of feature ting, want of sleep, actions from debitify, went tangor but may be relieved by the timely use of this Main. hereby certify that my wife has for the her put health, and after having tried many thorning inquitief. I bought for her a battle of DR. MILLEY Cap Drops, from the use of whitely a very their to the impress relief, and her Cough has entirely lifter in the regained her strength.

Hudson, 12 mo. 39th, 1819.

JOHN S. JENKIS

FOSEPH D. MONELL, Recorder of the City of Ha To the afflicted whom this may concern 1, 103 lty. TON, do certify that I took a violent cold in the latte the year 1818, which created a violent Coup and breathing, which was very distressing till I want of Doctor MELLEN'S Cough Drope, and by thing pain in my side.

ROS ANNA BARTON, Wife of Jury bra Hudson, 12 me. 13th, 1819. This is to certify that in June 1818, I man wind will the house, and part of the time to m former sleep. I can with the greatest appears they to all that are afflicted with those completely valuable Medicine.

Hudson, County of Columbia, State of N. Not. Do. These drops generally give case in most cans asthmas, difficulty of breathing, whereing, always tation which often to do to communication, point Sold by TUATCHER & THOMPSON, SOLO PLE, SMITH and PEARSOLL, and T. W. DION Steam Engines, Machinery, do

THE Subscriber informs persons at a will furnish Steam Engines, of the and warranted for any length of time REDUCED prices, viz :--4 horses post do, 1800; 12 do, 2200, 16 do, 2500, and other control of the regime. To tion.—He is also prepared for Boring. Turning of lers, and in wood, brass and iron, millwright and and making of patterns, and machinery of early days. with despatch, and on reasonable terms.
Philad. July 19, 1823-6m THOS. ROLLON JAMES BIRD,

Tenth street, and Delaware Brewery, strict attention, to merit a share of all gentlemen and ladies who will custom shall be attended to with i supply of various kinds and qualities dispose of upon reasonable terms.

CHARLES B. REES, BOOT & SHOEMAKER, I and hopes, by strict attention on age. - N. B. All orders, for crest prices. - Also, repairing of at the lowest prices.-neatness and dispatch.

DANIEL COLLINS, B RASS and BELL FOUNDER, 10CK HANGER, respectfully informs his lie, that he has commenced business back lifth expect has commenced business back Fifth street, below Walnut. scription of Castings, executed im-relying and plain Boot Plates, made Bells, in the city or country, nearly hung.

JAMES B. WOOD_No. 42 SP Between Front and Second street

SAMUEL HAIN Manufacturer, No. 115, North Street, offers for asle, abs ssortment of HATS, varia
the best quality, at reduced f

1 font Brevier, nearly new, ab. 314 lbs. 1 do. Pica, 250. 1 do.

hed by ATKINSO

POR THE SATURDAY EVENT CHRISTMA

wintry winds with anger er boundless wastes of drifting a driving sleet and freezing e falling fast o'er hill and da d you around your social fire The seat of calm domestic loan nothing from the world des think how many friendless thknown to this thy happy ! out a kind protecting hon and e'en by all the world for d should to them thy Fancy let thy feeling bosom learn, give to theirs of thine a part To add to theirs another mite nd cheer the wandering pilgr With shelter in so bleak a n is now the time of mirth and Caristmas ends the dying y

Is lighting e'en the brightest he merry sleigh bells cheerful Is heard to tingle lond and fa while belies and beaux in conc whish off a scene so fine. then time with me o'er childh nd all was just what Fancy of low oft I've join'd a social bar isleighing jaimts on Jersey la h such a tale as childhood tell. The evening ride, the muffling of The witty turn, or pleasant joke. The silver music of her tongue,. The magic lines that Beauty sun. The chorus too we jointly gave, An echo o'er the loy wave. But time has shewn my early si. That sleighing parties in the me

Are merry meetings, causing qu Paths to vice, and foes to mora

The new born year that's dawn O'er snowy banks and frazen Will soon, like former ones, allow A pleasant stock of milder be But rain or snow, "tis best you k

Since time so fast is flying. To leave behind, on every mind. Some feelings, good implying Then let that hour, whose fleeting To thee, too well is known, Ne'er pass thee by without a tie On worlds above thine own.

TOR THE SATURDAY EVENT A young man who was betrothed to ed to go to Calcutta, a sh demuly pledged each other to remain bout two years; returned, and found by sent her the following lines, and died boy sould'at thou ever break the vo every hope of earthly bliss, did rest a so dear, ho fill'd my dreams by night, and thou a year. briane on my path should frown, I thou uld not think that thou'd be faise

in its darkest, saddest hour, my fortu ever form'd a wish for joy, but wish'dt ow could'st thou turn all my hopes India's clime thy name is carv'd in man ere oft I've sworn before high Heave love : e silent moon has pitied me, when beau he mw her light no pleasure gave, for M haps she knew her heart and love fore il'a planet in yon sky, when maids are it moon which shines so pure and brig vigil keeps.

w well I recollect the time, I took my hen thou amidst thy team look'd up, and d call'd on Heaven to bless thy love be sweet.

ntil again in happier hour, thy Henry the could be think when he return'd a perjo Mary who was once so good, so tender. hat she who wish'd him happiness, and se ald be the first to lacerate his heart, and Oh eall to mind those happy hours when w hen look of thine my soul would thrill.

would melt, en every sun but lest us happier far, at el has when in joyous smiling hope we hail d h if there is a pang to which all other wood In that which maids inflict who wreck a be only charm of life is love, and when a pr es that charm, oh death is sweet to well! farewell ! I feel the cold and cl en on my heart; mine eyes grow dim, tare thre well, and o'er my grave shed by Oh I forgive, and may kind Heaven forgive t

FOR THE SATURDAY EVENIV THE DEATH OF MRS. ELIZA LI Flow! tears of sorrow flow Eliza is no more!

The faithful wife, the mother dear The sister, daughter, friend since No power can now restore!

No more ! ah, never more, lo that lov'd circle found, With cheerful smiles of happines asing sweet domestic biase.
And soothing all around. No more! alas, no more, With lov'd ones here to dwell With those than life itself more des

Oh, bitter is the parting tear, Sad, sad, the last farewell. Farewell ! Eliza dear ;

Thy sainted spirit's flown to those bright realms of bliss about those heavenly scenes of peace and his everlasting home.